NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1925.

TERMS. $3.00 A YEAR

TO INSURE CITY BUILDINGS

Committee Recommends Discontinuance of Former Policy of Non-Insurance, and $7500 for Premiums.

The following report has been filed by the special committee on the matter of insurance of city buildings:—

The City of Newton owns over one hundred buildings which have cost about six million dollars to construct and which have a replacement value probably double this amount.

For many years Newton has had no serious fire losses to its public buildings, including their contents.

Within a few years we have spent over $100,000 for the installation of sprinkler systems in the basements of some of our schools and other changes have been made in our Public Buildings to meet the requirements of the Fire Hazard Commission and the State Police.

The only insurance carried at present on any of our public buildings is the following:—Oak Hill School, City Home, dwelling house on school lot Day Junior High, contents of public library.

In 1910 a Municipal Building Insurance Fund was started with an appropriation of $25,000. No appropriations have been made to this Fund since 1914. The record of the Fund is as follows:

Appropriated from 1910 to 1914 $45,000.00
Invested Funds Interest to Nov. 30, 1924 24,134.01

Making total of $69,134.01

Losses paid for:

1914 Repairing Pumping Station $350.00

1916 Water Reservation Material 73.06

1921 Repairing Aub. Ave. Stable 480.12

1922 Repairing High School Shed and Equipment 2,022.72

1923 Repairing City Hall Flag Pole 470.00

Repairing Stearns School Port. 50.00

Repairing Elliot Sch. School Roof 138.96

1924 Repairing Emergency School Roof 313.19

Making a total of $3,898.05

Leaving a balance of $65,235.96

In order to know accurately the cost of insuring all city buildings it is necessary to know the present sound value of each. This can be determined only by an appraisal. We have been unable to secure such an appraisal because no funds for defraying the cost (about $1500) are at our disposal. While desirable, your Committee has therefore found it impractical to attempt to determine the annual cost of insuring all city buildings.

BROOKLINE WINS

Saturday afternoon at the high school gymnasium Brookline emerged the victor over Newton in a return meet by the score of 46-31. Newton fought hard to avenge the defeat of last month by the Brookline boys on the Brookline track. The Newton team was without the services of its star 300 yard runner, Buswell, who was the sole point winner at Huntington last week. Brookline started right out and cleaned up the 30 yard dash but Newton retaliated by taking all three places in the hurdles. In the 600 yard run Cummings of Newton pushed Murray of Brookline all the way to the finish line which Murray won but crossed only one stride ahead of the Newton man, marking the creditable time of 1 min., 21 1/5 sec. Captain Johnson of Newton then won the 300 yard run tying the track record of 37 sec. Besides winning the hurdles Fullerton of Newton also won the broad jump with a leap of 9 ft., 7 1/2 in. In the summary:

30-yard Dash—Won by McGrath, Brookline; Shea, Brookline, second; Finn, Brookline, third. Time, 4s.

45-yard Hurdles—Won by Fullerton, Newton; McIntyre, Newton, second; Gallagher, Newton, third. Time, 22 2/5s.

300-yard Run—Won by Johnson, Newton; Horsfall, Brookline, second; Smith, Brookline, third. Time, 37s.

600-yard Run—Won by Murray, Brookline; Cummings, Newton, second; Dohoney, Newton, third. Time, 1m., 21s.

1000-yard Run—Won by Shea, Brookline; Feeley, Newton, second; Chambers, Newton, third. Time, 2m., 40 1/2s.

Relay Race—Won by Brookline (Simmons, Horsfall, Guscanson and Smith); Newton (Cummings, Spear, Rising and Johnson).

High Jump—Won by Brieckel, Brookline, height 5 ft., 5 in.; tie for second place between Murray and Vachon, Brookline, height 5 ft., 4 in.

Broad Jump—Won by Fullerton, Newton, distance 9 ft., 7 1/2 in.; Cotter, Brookline, second, distance 9 ft., 3 1/4 in.; Kinsley, Brookline, third, distance 9 ft., 2 3/4 in.

Shotput—Won by Vachon, Brookline, distance 38 ft., 2 1/2 in.; Kerman, Newton, second, distance 37 ft., 4 1/2 in.; Conniff, Newton, third distance 37 ft., 3 1/2 in.

LEND-A-HAND CLUB

The Lend-a-Hand Club of the Channing Church gave two most successful performances of the three-act play "The Silver Thread" in the church parlors last Saturday afternoon and evening. The story is a delightful one and especially adapted for juveniles. Much ability was displayed by the performers, who were rewarded by prolonged applause. Especially clever were Anne Cummings as the boy and Phyllis Baker as the princess. The settings were both elaborate and effective. The other children who took part were Mary Hill, Corlinda Pratt, Marion Mellus, Mary Harrington, Carolyn Hodgson, Alice Scofield, Elizabeth Glidden and Margaret Webber. They were assisted by Mrs. A. C. Cummings, Mrs. A. W. Blakemore, Miss Lena Nixon, Dr. Edward Mellus, Stephen Howe, Robert Rees and Elizabeth Russell. Mrs. Agnes S. Wheeler was the pianist.

Both in illumination and in information the combined forces of the Edison Company and the local firms enlightened Auburndale with the last words in electricity.

ELECTRICAL EXHIBIT

The Auburndale Men's Club was the scene this week of the Electrical Exhibit put on by Edison Light of Boston in collaboration with local electrical supply stores.

Everything Electrical is the spirit of the show. The years have seen many new developments and additions to the electric efficiency of practical housekeeping. And WTAT, the portly broadcasting station, little sister of the WEI, broadcaster direct from the scene of activities in the club house.

The knot of interested tuners-in and prospective radio-owners that never ceased to gather around the radio booth learned the latest secrets about the new fast-growing art.

A demonstration of the WTAT called for eager interest from the men and boys—and women who weren't clustered at the Model Kitchen chatting with a hospitable hostess.

And there was every possible effort made to demonstrate the fact that electricity is the handy housekeeper of the century.

Curlers, toasters, percolators and heaters were small specimens of electrified civilization, accompanied by electric ranges, washers, dishwashers, ironers and dough mixers. Demonstrations proved the needlessness of the drudgery in household tasks.

"Women indeed have changed!" one woman said as she left the hall.

Clocks electrically motivated through any plug supplied by indirect current can now be used at home. These clocks were a prominent feature of the show.

Experienced appliance men demonstrated the several time-savers, answering questions and pointing out the efficiency and economy of each product.

Housekeepers were obviously impressed more than ever by the electric refrigerator that is calculated to save at least $55 a year on ice bills and food waste.

Booths were well-lighted and attractively arranged. The comfort, coziness and pleasant voices gave the exhibition a homelike atmosphere. Selections by the electric piano made music during the afternoon, and at night Chick Storeys orchestra furnished entertainment for visitors.

Both in illumination and in information the combined forces of the Edison Company and the local firms enlightened Auburndale with the last words in electricity.

POLICE COURT

For operating an automobile without having a license Joseph LeBlanc of 166 Felton street, Waltham, was fined $25 in Court last Monday, and the owner of the car, who loaned his machine to LeBlanc, Fred Arsenault of the same address, was also fined $25. Patrolman John H. Austin of the Metropolitan Park Police stopped LeBlanc for operating on a park reservation, Forest Grove, which is closed to automobile traffic. This charge against LeBlanc was filed.

The cast of well-known business and professional men has been enjoying the many rehearsals of the last two months under the direction of the coach, Bob Nichols, and is ready to present a show that will be a "howl" in every sense of the word.

MINSTREL SHOW

An event that promises to score a big hit is to be given by members of the Newton Club next Wednesday evening in the nature of a Minstrel Show at the Newton Community Theatre (formerly known as the Opera House).

The cast of well-known business and professional men has been enjoying the many rehearsals of the last two months under the direction of the coach, Bob Nichols, and is ready to present a show that will be a "howl" in every sense of the word.

It is not always convenient to have the exact amount of currency in your pocket—but how handy it is to have your check book with you, and write the exact amount of the bill at any time. Besides how safe and economical.

Accounts subject to check are cordially invited.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Feb. 4—International affairs have forced to the front during the week as topics for discussion by men in public life here. Not even the eclipse, a rare phenomena casting an unearthly shadow, could divert some legislators from their plans to subordinate domestic matters.

Senator Borah, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has been giving vent to some of his personal views on the French debt. He has indulged in what may be rightly termed a long-distance debate with a member of the French Chamber of Deputies. There has been some criticism here that it is not the best form of statesmanship and even lacking in dignity. Some have gone so far as to say that the speeches in the American-French assemblies bordered on the theatrical. The subject has received some consideration in the House where many members are concerned over the possibilities of cancellation of the French debt.

Another unique trip was to see the famous "Firefall." From Glacier Point, one of the highest points in the valley, burning embers are hurled over the face of the cliff. Because of the extreme height, these die out before reaching the bottom. The effect is that of a golden waterfall.

One evening the party went to see the feeding of the bears which abound in this region. These were fed regularly every night at a point across the Merced River on a raised platform lit by an electric light.

It was an unforgettable sight to see the creatures of the wild come stealing out of the black shadows of the forest to seek food. One huge cinnamon bear walked right on to the platform itself and looked about as if to say, "Who dares deny my right here?"

On the night on which our party visited them nine bears came to the platform, seized their food, and disappeared into the forest. We, in the meantime, were on the other side of the river in the darkness.

From the Yosemite, the party continued its journey to Los Angeles. We found the city very crowded, hot, and dusty.

Our first trip was to Pasadena by way of the alligator and ostrich farms. The former had a horrible fascination, and the latter was an interesting sight especially at dinner time, when the feeding of oranges to the ostriches was a special feature.

Pasadena has grown very greatly during the last half dozen years. It bears the same relation to Los Angeles about the same distance away and largely a commuting city.

The immigration issues which raked the country last year will, in a small way, be revived within a few days. The House will be asked to enact more drastic deportation laws. The supporters of this legislation insist that these changes are essential to the welfare of the country. It is proposed to simplify the procedure in deporting aliens who violate American laws, particularly the Volstead Act. The proposed bill would permit the deportation of those entering the country illegally and those who overstayed authorized visit. There are several provisions to cover aliens who might become public charges. Though this bill may pass the House, it is doubtful if it will receive consideration from the Senate before adjournment.

A Great New Novel by ZANE GREY

begins in the February Issue

Another wonderful story of the great West which Zane Grey knows and depicts so graphically. This time among the primitive backwoods people of the San Dimas mountain district, where the dawn of modern civilization comes in the guise of Lucy Watson, a young and comely welfare worker. In the thick of the ensuing swirl of human passions towers Edd Denmeade, The Wild Bee Hunter. Beginning in the February issue now on sale—10 cents a copy, or a full year for $1.00. BOOTH TARKINGTON'S Damsel Dark, Damsel Fair

In creating Lily Dodge—"that wistful slip of a girl, so fair and fragile," who twisted her entire family about her little finger and "got away with anything," even to being "practically almost engaged" to three swains at once—Booth Tarkington gives us an etching of feminine adolescence even more brilliant than his ALICE ADAMS. In the February issue now on sale.

WILLIAM LYON PHELPS First of a Great Series of Lay Sermons

Few living men have so mastered the art of friendship as has Professor Phelps—"Billy" Phelps, as he is lovingly known to every one of the thousands of men who have passed through his class-rooms at Yale. His great series of lay sermons, to appear during the year in The Journal, opens with an expression of his faith—faith in God, faith in man, faith in the great Christian Adventure. Beginning in the February issue now on sale.

We print this week the full report of the aldermanic committee on the question of insurance of city buildings.

We do this that all our readers may inform themselves on this question which, if adopted, radically changes the policy of the city for the past fifty years.

We recognize the fact that there are two sides to the matter and there is considerable merit to the arguments advanced by the committee.

In both majority and minority reports, the question has, however, been thoroughly considered at various times during the past thirty years by hard-headed business men and the present policy of the city acting as its own insurer has been repeatedly approved.

If the present administration during its eleven years of management of the city's affairs, had continued the wise policy of an annual contribution to the Municipal Insurance Fund established in 1910, and to which it was expected annual contributions of $10,000 were to be made, we would have today a fund ample to cover any serious loss which we might incur from fire in our city buildings.

The present committee recognizes the value of that policy and recommends its re-establishment, together with partial insurance of city buildings while that fund is being augmented to $300,000.

Mr. Hollis' report was what we expected when we called attention to his membership on the committee when it was appointed.

Mr. Hollis is in the insurance business and naturally looks at this question from the standpoint of an insurance man.

We wonder if our tax payers fully appreciate the recent opinion of the Supreme court in regard to the power of the school committee over teachers' salaries.

The court says that "In the exercise of their honest judgment on the question of salaries for teachers, the school committee are not restricted to the amounts appropriated."

This means that the tax levying power of the city government, i.e., the board of aldermen, must provide whatever funds the school committee demands for teachers' salaries and means in essence that the budget system required by the state is absolutely useless so far as school appropriations are concerned.

The court further states that "The only supervision which the city council or towns can exercise over the school committee is to vote to close the schools after they have been kept the length of the term specified by law," a procedure which would be utterly useless where an unthinking populace is concerned.

We have long felt that in view of the rapidly growing expense of our schools, the proper solution lay in the direction of giving the school committee tax levying powers for maintenance as well as for additional buildings for educational purposes.

This would bring directly home to each tax payer what the schools were costing and would relieve the aldermen from a responsibility which does not rightfully belong to them.

It is rather curious that practically the same aldermen who saw fit to change the ordinance last year in order to allow the appointment of Mr. Chadwick as Buildings Commissioner, now refuse to change the ordinance to allow the City Physician, Dr. Fred M. Lowe to serve as Overseer of the Poor as well.

Alderman Felt was the leader of the majority in both cases. Inconsistency is evidently a jewel in aldermanic eyes. Seriously, however, we regret this action of the aldermen, as we know of no one who is better qualified to fill the office of Overseer of the Poor than Dr. Lowe. To a wide knowledge of the poor of the city he brings a sympathetic, but practical understanding of their needs and the results are satisfactory to both the applicant and the city.

Once again we call attention to the ominous features of the weekly report of Registrar Goodwin in regard to disposition of cases of drunken operators of motor vehicles. The Superior courts last week fined 17 persons for this offence, where the lower courts had given a jail sentence.

But little progress can be made towards clearing up the menace of our streets if the judiciary take this view of the offence.

We note with pleasure that the state commission on motor vehicles endorses the stand taken by this paper in the matter of enforcement of the motor vehicle law by the judges of our courts.

When the law says "shall" it is not within the province of any judge to deliberately ignore its command. We feel sure that an aroused public opinion will soon manifest itself on this question.

Next week is Boy Scout Week throughout the country. Few organizations mean so much to the future of our nation as the Boy Scouts. They stand for everything that is sane and decent in morals and for preparedness in mind and body. Newton should do its part in maintaining this movement for better citizenship.

The movement to secure a ground floor location for the Newtonville Branch library should meet with the warm approval of every resident of that village. A location on the level of the street would add immensely to the patronage of the library.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL

The Tech School as it now is makes a splendid background for the park, viewed from Walnut street. This portion of the Park would be the most attractive part of it, if the new school was located where the citizens want it, only 30 seconds' walk beyond the proposed location and set back down to Tech. This would save the expense of building a tunnel 240 feet long—and much more than this, save the expense and delay of digging out the bog hole and refilling it. This also would allow the citizen school to be set back from the street so as to give a view of the whole building from Walnut street, whereas a person standing on Walnut street front of the proposed school site will see nothing of Tech or the park front of it.

Making a tunnel 240 feet long from the proposed school down to Tech will cost probably $25,000. If the citizens school joins Tech there would be no tunnel as you could go from the first floor, to the first floor of the Tech. This would save going up and down stairs many times a day, to and from the tunnel. Where the citizens' school joins the Tech is the highest land of the whole grounds. The effect will be by grading as if it were all on the high land grade. This arrangement of the building would be magnificent. There would be nothing like it in the state, and the park in the center could be made to compare with very little expense as it is mostly graded, on the Elm road side. Mr. Hoyt, the architect, said that the plans above ground will require no alteration. The north side of the citizens' school will require no boring, as it touches the south side of the proposed school which has been bored, and on the west side is the hill, hard pan, and on the south side, hard pan, for quite a distance, so that many thousands of dollars could be saved by adopting the citizens' location.

It is very strange to all citizens that the Board of Aldermen cannot comprehend this and realize that the park coming between all the schools will be a joy to all forever.

Y. M. C. A.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Swimming Team meets Malden at the local pool this Friday evening in a return meet. The first meet at Malden resulted in a victory for Newton by a very close margin. A very interesting return meet is being looked for this Friday. All the local swimmers will be on hand to do their part. Bang, Randall, Lincoln, and Kimball will take care of the sprints. Bullock and Millard will swim the breast stroke, while Holman and Patterson will swim the back stroke, and Baird in the 200, and his brother in the dive.

The "Y" basketball five will play the Malden five at Newton this Saturday.

This is the first of a series of two games between these two teams. Malden comes to Newton with an enviable reputation, having taken on some of the strongest teams in and around Boston. The local team has shown such a vast improvement in the last few weeks that the game should be close, particularly as the game is to be played on the Newton court.

Cunningham, McGillivray,

Cummings, and Rae are the forwards,

Irvine and Burr seconds,

Villemeur, Gray, and Coulter are the guards. The game will start at 8:15.

During the month of January, the junior groups took educational trips to the following places: States Prison, Perkins Institute, Hood's Ice Cream Factory, the Watertown Arsenal. During February and March they will follow out their plan of visiting some manufacturing establishment or place of historical interest each week. On the list of places to be visited are soap factories, publishing companies, Page & Shaw Candy Factory, Necco Chocolate Company, Drake's Bakery, the Navy Yard, Bunker Hill Monument. This coming Saturday the boys will go to the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Factory. Following the educational trips there is a dinner for all Club members which serves as a weekly get-together for the younger boys in the boys' division.

Representative Luitwiler has filed a bill to stiffen the punishment for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of liquor. The bill requires a report from the Registrar of Motor Vehicles before imposing sentence and prohibits the filing of the case or the power to suspend the execution of the sentence.

Representative Saltonstall has filed a long bill to require owners of motor vehicles to furnish security for damages caused by personal injuries and property losses.

Senator Moyse of Waltham has filed a bill asking for an investigation of an extension of the Charles River boulevard from Galen street, Watertown, to Elm street, Waltham.

The annual proposition for a Greater Boston took the form this year of a petition of Mayor Curley for a commission to investigate the matter. It was given a hearing this week and had but one remonstrant, the town counsel of Milton. The little interest manifested in the project will probably induce the committee to give it the usual report of leave to withdraw.

There was a large attendance at the hearing Wednesday on the proposed ratification of the child labor amendment to the Federal constitution. It will be recalled that this matter was submitted to the people for an opinion last November and was overwhelmingly defeated. The formal action, however, must be taken by the Legislature and a strong attempt is being made to have it ratify the amendment regardless of the vote last fall.

The morning was given up to those in favor of ratification and the afternoon to those opposed, the latter being led by Mr. Thomas W. Proctor of Chestnut hill. While we have a strong feeling that the voters last fall were misled by specious propaganda and sadly mistaken in their judgment.

There was a largely attended hearing yesterday on the question of allowing payments to be made for Sunday sports. The writer was a member of the Legislature when the bill allowing Sunday afternoon sports for amateurs only was passed and he opposed the bill at that time on the ground that it was merely an opening wedge and that within a short time attempts would be made to commercialize them. That prediction has come true but we trust the General Court will stand to its original idea and refuse to allow any further invasion on the Sabbath Day.

THE PRE-SCHOOL CHILD

On the outskirts of London, and within half an hour's journey from the city, is one of the most beautiful bits of woodland in England. Few Americans, or Londoners either, have ever visited this place, or even know of its existence. It is a bird sanctuary, a veritable land of song, which is carefully fenced and guarded by keepers night and day, and where every kind of British bird lives and nests unharmed. The wood lies in the Brent valley and was bought for London two years ago and established as a permanent memorial to Gilbert White, the author of the "History of Selborne," by the Selborne Society. The sanctuary, however, has been in existence just 21 years, and in its 19 acres, in the boughs of its many oak trees and the copices of hazel, owl, willow warblers, blue tits, goldfinches, nightingales, black caps and many other birds may be seen.

The meetings will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on three Tuesdays, beginning with Feb. 10, at 10:30. There will be no charge for enrollment. All who desire further information may communicate with Miss Louise Walworth, Centre Newton 1070.

The list of speakers and subjects are as follows:

Feb. 10.—"Health of the Pre-School Child" by Dr. Mary F. DeKruif.

Feb. 17.—"Nutrition of the Young Child" by Miss Lou Lombard.

Feb. 24.—"Mental Health of the Child," by Dr. Carl Bowman.

CONSOLIDATION REFUSED

for the old stable buildings, and he respectfully asked that the Board grant the permit for the garage.

Mr. J. F. Dunleavy, opposing the petition, said that the erection of a garage would create a menace to the public safety, as Central avenue is only 30 ft. wide, and at various times of day has considerable traffic with people going to and from the trains and children to the schools. Several years ago the City had appropriated money to widen Walnut street, and at present there is more traffic congestion than formerly with the erection of the Junior High school. Turgeon's exit is carefully guarded and it would be too expensive to guard five exits and there was no necessity for another garage in Newtonville. Mr. Dunleavy called to the Board's attention the fact that they had gone on record as opposed to any more gasoline pumps being permitted on Washington street, and now they had been asked to approve a garage which was to have been reasonable.

Mr. E. P. O'Halloran, of Central avenue, appearing in opposition, said he appeared not only for himself, but for his wife and six children, and also for Mr. Philip Basile, the owner of property on Walnut street, and that he was authorized to speak for the neighbors of the vicinity. He gave six reasons why the permit should not be granted: (1) would constitute a serious and lasting menace; (2) would depreciate the value of residential property; (3) would counteract improvement made by widening Walnut street; (4) would create a nuisance which would be maintained for an indefinite length of time; (5) was not necessary; and (6) would be looked upon by adjacent owners as a confiscation of their property. Mr. O'Halloran then proceeded to take the Board on a personally conducted tour of the block on which the garage would be erected, giving taped distances to various car-tracks, trees, and other obstructions to the view, etc.

Mr. W. F. Freeman, a property owner who is remodelling the houses on Walnut Terrace, said that a local business was not objectionable as such business quieted down before eight o'clock at night, but a garage was noisy all night long, and in the summer time when people wanted their windows open the odor was also an objection.

He said that he had been held up as a speculator, while Mr. Haynes had been held up as a benefactor, although he had been financing homes and real estate operations in Newton for 15 years, and not just since last March.

Mr. J. P. Gallagher, appearing as an objector, and representing about 150 others, said that he knew the Board had given the matter the careful consideration they always gave to such matters, and that he would speak briefly upon the telling points.

The element of danger was the principal point, and the proper way to minimize it was not to create it. A garage was not the only melancholy outlook for the use of the property, and as to Mr. Hayden's mathematics he could not agree with him. A garage with five times as many exits and five times as much use would not have one-fifth the amount of danger, but would have five times as much, he reasoned, comparing the proposed garage with Turgeon's.

The bulk of the traffic from the north side of Newtonville used Walnut street and Central avenue, and that they would be going to and from the trains at the same hours as the bulk of the motorists would be using the garage. Mr. Gallagher realized that the motorist's needs must be taken care of, but did not think the proposed site was at all suitable and that the Board was being asked to nullify the improvement made by widening Walnut street. He also presented written protests from several residents of the vicinity. Mr. Gallagher also called the attention of the Board to the closing remarks of the Mayor's address to the Board on January first: "I believe that we can, if we will devote ourselves not only to the strict business of municipal government but also to that far greater and more difficult task of creating a City with a soul." In closing he emphasized the point that although the owner of the Colonna apartments had given his approval to the project, the tenants, who paid the overhead and upkeep of the apartments, were strongly opposed to the proposition, and in their behalf he asked the Board that the petitioners be given leave to withdraw.

Alderman Fitts said he considered it a rather drastic performance to consolidate the offices of the two departments temporarily as the Board might find themselves confronted with a problem when the services of Dr. Lowe were no longer available. He wondered if the increase of $1600 in Dr. Lowe's salary was sufficient to balance the importance of the large expenditures which are made in the Charity Department, and he wished some other means could be found to settle the difficulty.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

EMMA D. COOLIDGE, Editor

State Federation

Under the auspices of the State Federation a series of lectures on the work of the Federal Government in Massachusetts is being held at the headquarters of the Women's Auxiliary of the Civil Service Reform Association, 3 Joy street, Boston. The next one, for Monday at 10:30, is by Mr. George E. Adams, Chief of Food Inspection Laboratory, U. S. Department of Agriculture. In these days when we hear so much about inspection of this, that, and the other, from automobile driving, germs, antitoxins, State Departments, oil wells, and other government activities, it will be to the point to learn just what we are eating, what direful, though undreamed, hazards we are running, and wherein we can reform our ways, both in reckless purchasing and preparation of foods. There is probably no department of the government that comes closer to woman's province in homemaking than that which deals with the subject of pure food, and since we are interested in all these other investigations, how much more should we be in Mr. Adams' lecture of the ninth!

LIP READING

To the Editor:
It is no exaggeration to say that there are hundreds of people in the city of Newton who are deaf. I have myself knowledge of nearly one hundred people, men, women and children, who are suffering with either partial or total deafness.

Many of them cannot hear a watch tick at any distance, and all are victims in need of help. How many times I have seen families made unhappy and miserable from this one cause!

There are, indeed, many brave souls who bear their suffering without a murmur, vainly striving to hide what cannot be concealed, and anxious for what the future may bring. Hearing is so very important in all relations at this time, what can we do?

A man will say grimly, "If this keeps on I've got to change my business, that's all," and the woman in business has the same problem. Hearing, or at least the ability to follow brief conversation is absolutely imperative, and both men and women are shut out from a great many occupations by even partial deafness.

In the home the wife and mother and sister suffer even more acutely, for she is shut out from what is dearest and most precious to her. She is obliged to sit in silence watching the flow of family life and take, understanding nothing.

But what can she do?

I'll tell you what she can do, and what a man can do and what a child can do.

They can learn to read the lips. Lip reading is a God-given blessing to help the deaf to endure their affliction.

It will not bring back their hearing, it will not help them to hear telephones and radios and music, and the natural voices of the world, but it will help them to understand what people say.

Lip reading helps them as learning French even a little would help them if they were living in France; every new phrase and idiom is just as much gain.

Lip reading is simple and practical, largely a matter of repetitions, and while to be a specially good reader requires an equal amount of time and study, a useful working vocabulary may soon be obtained.

A little incident which occurred in my early life has always remained in my memory.

I was calling at a neighbor's house where the lady was deaf. Some one

COMMUNITY CHEST

Newton Central Council Invites City Wide Opinion on Its Desirability

Does Newton want a Community Chest? This is the challenging question which the welfare organizations and the citizens of Newton are now facing.

Two months ago a committee of the Newton Central Council, headed by Mr. Grosvenor Calkins, was commissioned to study the Community Chest Plan, and its desirability or undesirability for Newton.

Within the last week the Committee has sent out letters to several hundred representative contributors, from all parts of the city, inviting them to express their opinions as to whether or not financial federation would be beneficial to Newton.

Although the expense involved has prevented the Committee from sending personal letters to more than a few hundred persons, the Committee is anxious to have an expression of opinion from every citizen of Newton who is interested. To this end, the Committee invites everyone who has an opinion on the Community Chest plan or who wishes to learn more about it, to write to the Newton Central Council, 12 Austin St., Newtonville, and answer any or all of the following questions:

1. Do you favor a Community Chest for Newton?
2. Do you wish to receive a leaflet, prepared by the Committee, which defines the Community Chest plan and some of its alleged advantages and disadvantages?
3. Do you wish to receive notice of a meeting to be held for the purpose of discussing more fully the Community Chest plan and its possible desirability or undesirability for Newton?
4. Do you wish to arrange for a personal interview with a representative of the Community Chest Study Committee?

The Committee in charge of the Community Chest Study consists of: Grosvenor Calkins, Chairman; Mrs. Virginia M. Hutchinson, representing the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; Frank W. Remick; Miss Elizabeth Ross, representing the professional social workers; Rupert C. Thompson, representing the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Fred H. Tucker, Dr. Guy M. Winslow, George M. Angier, ex-officio, Arthur Dunham, Secretary.

A statement issued by the Committee stresses the fact that "The Committee is impartial and is seeking only to determine the facts on which this important decision can be based. It recognizes that any successful plan for central financing must receive the endorsement of a substantial majority of the contributors and the welfare organizations concerned." The Committee is at present seeking for the opinions of contributors and citizens, but it is understood that "at a later date the members of the governing boards and the executives of the welfare organizations concerned will have the fullest opportunity of expressing their views."

It will come as a surprise to many Newton people to learn that there are about seventeen Newton welfare organizations which raise money from general voluntary contributions. These include a hospital; other health-promoting organizations; societies working with families and individuals; institutions for the aged; community centers; and other recreational, educational, and character-building organizations.

Approximately $140,000.00 must be

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop VIII. The Girl Scouts in the Auburndale troop have been working very hard the past few weeks, preparing a play, "Maids and Matrons" which is to be given in the Auburndale Club House on Wednesday evening, February 18, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. John Hebeek, chairman of the Auburndale Troop Committee has been coaching the play and it promises to be a great success. The quaint colonial costumes which will be worn and the old time settings of the play will add charm to the entertainment. Tickets may be had from any scout in Troop VIII and also from members of the Troop Committee.

Last Saturday a group of 45 scouts with their captain, Miss Hope St. Amant (all of Troop VIII) had a wonderful day at the Brae Burn Country Club, enjoying the winter sports.

Sixteen members of the Leaders Training Class enjoyed the Boy Scout Rally on Wednesday evening this week. There will be no meeting of the class next Wednesday as the Officers' Association meets that night. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, February 25 in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, West Newton.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. Bridget Hines Donahue, wife of Patrick Donahue of 22 Webster place, West Newton, died at her home Saturday evening after a short illness.

She was a resident of West Newton for many years. Surviving her, besides her husband, are three daughters and two sons. One son, John Donahue, is well known in Newton for his connections with the Playground Department and sporting activities throughout the city. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at her late residence, with a requiem mass at St. Bernard's Church at 9 o'clock.

Rev. William J. Dwyer, pastor of the church, was the celebrant of the mass. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. The bearers were John J. Keefe, William Lucey, John McHugh, Joseph McMahon, Edward Clark and Thomas McCarthy.

THE FOOL

Miss Maud Huntington-Benjamin will read Channing Pollock's well known play, "The Fool" on Thursday evening, February 26th, at the Unitarian church, West Newton. The reading is for the benefit of the Okolona Industrial school at Okolona, Miss. Mr. Pollock writes Miss Benjamin, "I don't hesitate to call you my interpretation so unique that I may say that I never heard the play read before hearing your reading."

WEST NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

Under the auspices of the West Newton Music School a pupils' recital will be held at the Claffin School on Friday, Feb. 20th, at 7:15 P. M. The orchestra will play, and there will be solo work. The public is cordially invited.

3. The cost of financing is reduced.

4. The Chest makes it easier for the contributor to measure his community responsibility and to give with greater assurance that his gift will be used efficiently.

5. Proper budgeting and accounting promote efficient administration in welfare work.

6. Joint budgeting means joint planning of the welfare programs of the organization.

7. The enlarged educational and publicity program spreads more widely the knowledge of and interest in social work.

8. The Chest stands for working together instead of separately for the welfare of the community. Joint financing is the acid test of the ability of the welfare agencies of the community to work together.

Against the Community Chest plan it is urged that:

1. Centralized power endangers the freedom of the individual agency.

2. It kills the personal interest of the contributor to the cause to which he contributes. It tends to make him feel impersonal.

3. It deprives the giver of much of his freedom of choice in giving.

4. The Chest may become automatic.

5. A pooling of interests will prevent the expansion of strong agencies as widely as they could expand under their own initiative.

6. It penalizes strong organizations by pooling their resources with weak ones.

7. It promotes extravagance and undue expansion because money is more easily raised.

8. It cripples constituent agencies when it fails.

RAINBOW REVUE

The beautiful club house of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was filled to overflowing on both Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, to witness the Rainbow Revue of 1925, given under the personal direction of Mr. C. Hessler Capron. This is an annual event of the Newton Centre Woman's Club and is eagerly anticipated by its members.

It is rare, indeed, that a suburb of Boston has an opportunity of seeing so ambitious a performance as that of the Rainbow Revue of 1925.

The gay evening gowns of the ladies and the many colored balloons gave a festive touch to the audience. From the opening of Act 1, "In the black and gold room of the Lakeshore Country Club" to the "Finale" of Act 2, the performance went with a smoothness of a professional performance.

Such favorites as Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, Miss Catherine Sullivan, Miss Caroline Stewart, Miss Sylvia Riley, Mrs. Robert MacKnight, Miss Dorothy Barton, Miss Carol McGaw, Miss Miriam Cathron, Mr. Robert E. Perry, and Mr. Herbert F. Tucker, were enthusiastically received and repeatedly encored. Small malts at each table made the applause, at times, literally deafening.

In an affair of such magnitude, it is impossible to speak of each scene in detail. Among the favorites was, "A Story We Loved in Childhood" with Dorothy Barton, first as Little Red Riding Hood, and later, as the bride with Priscilla Abbott, Betty Bolinger, Janet Dill and Louisa Shepardson as her bridesmaids, and a chorus of Little Red Riding Hoods.

The "Evening in the Orient" was particularly beautiful both in regard to the costuming and in regard to the poses of those taking part. The costumes of this scene, as well as those in "Raggedy Ann and the Music Room" were designed by Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. James D. Hymer. Mrs. William G. Welch (Hazel Sands) under whose capable direction, the dances of the Revue were trained, scored a success in her solo dance which was given with the abandon and passion of the Orient.

"Midnight in the Nursery" was a clever bit of work, both Andy and Raggedy Ann rightly received much applause.

Between Acts 1 and 2, Mrs. Robert MacKnight favored the audience with several selections which were much enjoyed.

The exquisite coloring and lighting effects of the scene at the bottom of the sea added much to its artistic beauty, and the dancers, trained by Miss Edna Barrett Mansfield, were charming.

The characterization of different types of girls by Margaret Miller, Eleanor Newton, Catharine Sullivan, Dorothea Tichnor, and Nancy Kimball in the scene "Who Can She Be" literally "brought down the house."

In beauty of costumes and stage effect, the Butterfly Scene was, perhaps, the climax. The costumes, with their iridescent shimmer and artistic coloring, were most effective. Each movement of the dainty creatures added to their charm. The costumes of this scene were designed and executed by Mrs. Phil M. Riley. Miss Sylvia F. Riley was the Moth, and Miss Louise Hoadland, the Butterfly. A gorgeous golden butterfly formed the background.

EAGLE BADGE AWARDED

On Wednesday evening the Indoor Rally was a great success, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather and conflicting events. Those scouts and others who put other activities ahead of scouting that evening missed something that was very well worth while and probably it was as well they did not come as the SRO sign was out early! Next year there will be a necessity for more seating room. The outstanding event was the award of the Eagle Scout Badge to John Fellows of Troop 11, Newton. Scout Fellows was presented to the President, Mr. W. S. Radway, by the Commissioner, Mr. J. M. Carley, who was also his first scoutmaster, and Mr. Radway in presenting the badge made a very inspiring and fitting address, saying in part: "To win, through the various steps, represented by Merit Badges, the honorary titles of Star, Life and Eagle Scout, requires a degree of study and application which will be of great benefit to any young man in all of his future relations of life and will give him a sure foundation upon which to build his success as a citizen and a man." The events at the Rally were won, as to counts, by troop 4 of Newton Highlands, first; troop 10, Waban, second; and troop 11, Newton, third. Particularly good work was done in the "Three Ring Circus" by all three of these troops, troop 4 building a bridge four feet high over which the troop marched, doing all the assembling in sixteen minutes; troop 10 demonstrating several games and a picked group from troop 11, headed by John Fellows, demonstrating First Aid. The new Drum and Bugle Corps from troop 4, Newton Highlands, gave an excellent demonstration and added much to the occasion. The meet was in charge of Mr. J. M. Carley, Commissioner, with Mr. R. W. Cotton assisting as Adjutant. The judges were Mr. W. S. Radway, R. E. Schirmer, R. Bonner, Dr. C. Parker, and Richard Brown. Mr. Edward Powers acted as time and record keeper.

The Boy Scouts have been invited to make two demonstrations next week, one Monday evening at the meeting of the Men's Club at St. John's Church, Newtonville, and one Thursday evening at the meeting of the American Legion.

Eliot Church, Newton, had a special talk on "Boy Scout Ideals" at their Church School service Sunday, by Mr. John M. Woodbridge, Jr. Mr. Woodbridge is well qualified to talk on this subject, having gone through scouting from a tenderfoot on his twelfth birthday to Scoutmaster and member of troop Committee. The talk was very interesting and as a troop has just been organized at this church it was particularly timely. A Court of Honor will be held at Eliot Church the 20th, at 7:30 P. M. to which all are invited.

Miss Caroline Stewart, in both the garden scene with Mr. Tucker and her few moments before the curtain, sang with a purity of tone and sureness of touch that brought much pleasure to her hearers.

MINSTREL SHOW

Newton Club Members Entertain A Crowded House With Jokes and Songs

The Minstrel Show given by the post man for funking an examination in a correspondence school course. The many English and American tourists in France had caused the French railways to adopt the system of announcing stations in English and the B. & A. was soon to follow their lead. Dr. Clark thought it would be a good plan for the M. & B., which he dubbed "marooned and busted" to do the same thing. The sudden changes in the weather brought a patient to the hospital the other day who had been overcome by the heat whereas two weeks ago the same man had been treated for frozen ears. The new Dodge Coupe had been approved by the Y. W. C. A. as it had a stop light inside. Dr. Clark told of the radio friend who sat up until midnight and got everything except San Francisco and the friend who beat that by staying up until 3 A. M. and got everything except H— and his wife gave him that. Friends of Dr. Clark who did not possess smoked glasses were invited to see the eclipse through his front windows.

As Joe Bryant said credit must be given to Mr. Robert Nichols, the coach, whose efforts were largely responsible for the success of the minstrels, but credit must be given to not only the end men, interlocutor, and chorus, but to every member of the Newton Club who had the slightest connection with the production, as undoubtedly the performance was an amateur production of its kind that has been produced in Newton in recent years.

As has been said, the curtain rose upon Billy Osborne, sitting in a chair in the Newton Club on the night of the show, completely absorbed in the solution of an apparently difficult crossword puzzle. So engrossed was he in an attempt to find a nine-letter word meaning an "evening's entertainment" that he did not hear the entrance of several members of the chorus who gave him several tips by singing various oldtime songs such as "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Swanee River." A quartette of harmonica players delighted the audience with several selections. Joe Bryant told the boys that Percy Woodward, who was very fond of dancing, attended the New Year dance, and while dancing with Mrs. Niven, she told him that she thought he must have come from Alaska, as he danced as though he had snowshoes on. "Driftwood," a solo, sung by Billy Allison, met with the approval of the house, and he was given a big hand. The telephone rang and Art LeBaron answered it in monosyllables and told the boys it was Joe Cryan saying it was almost time for them to appear in the Minstrels at the Newton Theatre. Rousing Billy Osborne from his puzzles by mention of the minstrels, which he was to be the long-sought word of nine letters meaning an evening's entertainment, the boys left for the show concluding Part I.

While the chorus was blacking up and the stage was being re-set, several specialties occupied the attention of the audience. Xylophone solos rendered by Clarence Hutchings made a hit and he was encored several times. Dr. Cecil Clark amused the audience with a dialogue which sent into spasms of laughter. Billy Osborne, he said, had one other hobby besides cross-word puzzles and that was golf. Last Sunday he was undecided whether to play golf or go to church and finally flipped a coin to decide for him. He had to flip 15 times before he got started for the links. W. H. Graham being an undertaker, thought he ought to be one of the "end men." Bill Hayden was a clever lawyer. Dr. Clark heard him arguing over a case (off a ship not a law suit) the other day and Bill said it must be good stuff. "It had the antique label on it." A commotion in front of Dr. Clark's house attracted his attention and it turned out to be Harold Earle being rattled by the

F. A. Day Junior High School

The first of the four concerts given by the members of the Boston Symphony Orchestral Club was a delightful success. The Assembly Hall was filled with a very appreciative audience. The program included one number in particular which was repeated since it was liked so well—"Pizzicati for Strings" by Delibes.

During the assembly period on Wednesday morning, Chellise Cook, William Miller, and Richard Wales played selections on the mandolin and violin.
Mr. Royal B. Farnum, Principal of the Massachusetts Normal Art School, then gave a very entertaining talk on the use of art in writing, photographs and phonograms. Mr.
Farnum illustrated with picture writing that was most amusing. We had with us several visitors from Waltham who came to hear Mr. Farnum. Mrs.
Franklin Woodward, accompanied at the piano by Miss Beatrice Fulton, sang "Thank God for a Garden" and "Honey Child."

MASON DISTRICT

To-day was observed as Valentine
Day by the little people of the Rice Kindergarten.

Motion songs, dances, and stories told by themselves formed the program. The costumes, little orchestra, and valentines made a day long remembrance.

The eighth grade class meeting held its session on Monday as is usual every third week. The program was varied by a piano solo, a piano and banjo selection, a charade, and a story.

Several of the eighth grades are hoping that the playground will soon be in condition, so that they can begin Captain Ball Games again. They had several good teams last fall.

LASELL

At the mid-winter reunion held at Bradon Hall on Monday, February 9, the largest number of former Lassell girls ever registered for this annual occasion, met for a very enjoyable time. Following the luncheon there were short speeches by Dr. Winslow, Mrs. Winslow, Mr. Towne, Mademoiselle Le Royer and Miss Potter.

In the absence of the President of the Alumnae Association, Mrs. Nellie
Woodward Collins, '15, the vice-president, Irene Sauter Sanford, '06, presided.

On Friday, February 13, a group of fifty girls will leave for the annual excursion to the White Mountains to enjoy a week-end of winter sports.

Sunday evening Vesper Service will be held at Woodland Park Hall, the speaker will be Rev. Paul Phalen of the Unitarian Church of West Newton.

The Junior school at Woodland Park celebrated Lincoln's birthday Thursday morning at the regular chapel hour by scenes from Lincoln's life. Parts have been written and were presented by the pupils from the eighth grade.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Preparations are well under way for the annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the date of which will be announced in the immediate future. A committee from the Board of Directors, including President Rupert C. Thompson, Harold F.
Young, and the Secretary of the Chamber, has been appointed to plan the program, choose the date, and make all other necessary arrangements.

A nominating committee, to present nominations for officers for the ensuing year has been appointed by President Thompson in accordance with a recent vote of the Board of Directors. This includes
Charles E. Hatfield of West Newton,
James P. Gallagher of Newton,
Arthur H. Holberg of Newtonville, H. Wilson Ross of Newton Centre, and Duncan Wright of Waban.

Past experience has indicated that meetings devoted to the consideration of timely local topics—of interest to the city as a whole—will invariably attract a larger attendance and prove more interesting to a majority of Chamber members than programs which offer visiting speakers on subjects of more general interest. Therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Board of Directors, the committee in charge of the program for the coming meeting is giving careful consideration to various suggestions, find an ample number of local questions that are to special interest to large numbers of citizens at this time. It is believed that the final choice of the committee will be such as to insure an interesting and worthwhile program, and a good attendance.

More definite announcements may be anticipated within a few days.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

All men doing business at Newton Corner, with others who may be interested, are cordially invited to attend a meeting on next Monday afternoon, February 16, at two o'clock, to be held in the hall in the public library. This meeting has been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce in response to the request of several merchants who are of the opinion that the parking restrictions of the traffic ordinance are working a serious detriment to their business.

These men desire to ascertain the views of their brother merchants, as well as those of others who are affected in any way by these restrictions. It is believed that a general meeting will prove the most effective way to crystallize opinion on this subject and determine what action, if any, can be taken to remedy any conditions which are deemed detrimental to business. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested persons, especially those engaged in business at Newton Corner, to attend this meeting.

EDISON CO. ENTERTAINMENT

The Employees Loyalty Committee of Edison Light of Boston will give an entertainment at the Newton Theatre (Opera House) next Wednesday evening, February 18, 1925.

An orchestra, quartet and motion pictures will provide a very attractive program. The "Edison Service Film" showing how light, heat and power is provided, as well as a Buster Keaton Comedy are the motion pictures to be shown.

Edison Service Customers and their friends are cordially invited to attend.

The meeting is in charge of Ray S.
Harris, Chairman of the Committee, assisted by James M. Healey, Arthur J. McEachern and Ralph D. Waldo.
Other members of the committee are:
Fred F. Brennan, August L. Burda, Samuel C. Clough, Cornelius J. Coleman, William Darling, William D.

lible, John J. Kennedy, James J. Mac-

guson Kennedy (Barbara Bradford)

Off." Mrs. James R. Armington and Mrs. Edgar F. Hathaway will preside at the luncheon which follows the lecture.

The Sunday Concerts continue to be very popular. On next Sunday (February 15), the members of the Club will hear the Boston Opera Players, together with Marion Aubens Wise, contralto.

At the auction bridge party Wednesday evening, February 18, Mrs.
Henry John Horn of Brookline, Mrs.
F. E. Shepard of Jamaica Plain, and Mrs. Frank C. Shepherd of Chestnut Hill, are among the leaders. They will be assisted by Mrs. Ferdinand J.
Blake, Mrs. Edmund Bowman, Mrs.
Robert Grant, Mrs. George D. Moore,
Mrs. David C. Theall, Mrs. Walter L.
Treadway, Mrs. George L. Wehrle, and ington's Birthday; to wit, Saturday,

EDITORIAL

There have been many complaints the past week over the utter disregard of the average motorist in driving at high speed through the slush and water on the streets, and spraying the clothing of pedestrians who were entirely within their rights on the sidewalks. The taxi drivers have been the worst offenders in this line and we have repeatedly seen them driving at a speed of over 25 miles an hour and sending a cascade of dirty water for ten feet on either side. Chief Burk might correct the situation by recommending the revocation of the taxi license of the men who are so entirely careless of the rights of others.

Without giving the matter much thought our off-hand opinion on the subject of a Community Chest for the various charitable and philanthropic work of the city, is somewhat against the proposition. We believe it is a trait of human nature that each person likes to select his or her own objects of charity. Each one has an interest in this, that or the other organization and would give far more liberally towards their pet object than to a general purse, even if their inclinations could be indicated in tendering the contribution.

During the absence of the editor, we have been fortunate to engage the services of Mr. R. L. Bridgman of Auburndale to write our usual weekly article "Under the Gilded Dome." Mr. Bridgman is the dean of the newspaper men at the State House and does not have an equal in knowledge of legislative affairs.

Friday, the thirteenth.

BACHRACH CONVENTION

Officers and employees of Bachrach, Inc. will hold a three days' convention in this city beginning tomorrow. Mr. Louis F. Bachrach will open the convention tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and will be followed by a series of talks on trade matters. At 6:30 a Love Feas will be held in Bay State Hall with food for thought, food for stomach and food for the tired brain. Fred L. Trask will be toastmaster and the speakers include Mr. E. Fred Cullen, Mr. Bachrach, and John Thomas, the humorist. The program also includes the presentation of the President's Cup, the parade of the $500 club, music dancing and surprises. Sunday will be devoted to demonstrations and trade talks and features with an open forum for managers. Monday morning there will be numerous conferences on trade matters and in the afternoon Mr. Bachrach will be the leader. The convention committee includes Mr. Fred L. Trask as chairman, Miss Gertrude S. Gower, Mr. Edward E. Hickey and Mr. Edouard J. Lizzette.

EDISON CO. QUARTET

IMPRESSIONS OF THE WEST

From Los Angeles we made a flying trip of one day to San Diego, passing the old mission of San Juan Capistrano en route. So close to the train was this famous mission, founded in 1776, that we could look into its court yard. Some members of the party left the train and spent several hours here.

In Los Angeles, on what is now one of the main streets, we saw the Church of the Angels, all that remains of the original mission from which Los Angeles takes its name. It is an old, somewhat dingy structure, crowded by the buildings around it, and giving little idea of its original beauty and setting.

One caught glimpses of a calm sea lazily lapping a sandy shore as we approached San Diego. The country, on the whole, was, however, uninhabited and uninteresting.

After a somewhat hasty lunch, we took automobiles for a trip around the city. As some members of the party were keen on going over the boundary into Mexico, we drove along the main highway to Tia Juana, Mexico. This represented the farthest point South on our journey.

Our road led for several hours thru a flat, rather monotonous country, with here and there a bungalow with its accompanying garden, and blue hills on the horizon.

Tia Juana proved disappointing. It is notorious for its gambling casino, run by Americans, where, in season, millions of dollars exchange hands. At the time of our visit, however, there was "nothing doing." We were shown through the empty rooms where the roulette tables and other gambling paraphernalia were in readiness. A slouchy, little old man, wearing a sombrero and smoking a pipe did the honors. One member of the party started to tip him as we came out, but, fortunately, discovered, just in time, that this insignificant being was the proprietor and worth millions.

The town itself consisted of one long street literally lined with saloons with here and there a shop. The houses were low, one-story affairs, shabby and dirty, with, usually, swarms of swarthy children playing around the doorway. We were shown the arena where bull fights are still occasionally held.

Getting into Tia Juana proved simple enough, but getting out was a different matter. At the boundary line we were held up by mounted police who insisted upon examining our purchases. But, as they found no liquor, they soon let us depart in peace.

We had gone to Tia Juana by the inland route, and our return was made by the coast route. San Diego has a curious coast formation, somewhat similar to Nantasket. There is a long peninsula, the outer edge of which forms a long, sandy beach. A large bathing pavilion and innumerable tents line the beach. We were surprised to find the shore practically deserted and no one in bathing, although it was a beautiful summer afternoon and the water looked most inviting.

Such a desire filled the hearts of some of our party to bathe in the Pacific Ocean that they donned their bathing suits and went in. They found the water very cold and filled with seaweed which accounted, in part, for the lack of bathers.

San Diego has very beautiful parks.

It is in this region that the heroine of "Ramona," Mrs. Jackson's famous story, lived. Unfortunately, however, we did not have time to visit these places.

From San Diego we went directly to the Grand Canyon in Arizona, passing a second time through Los Angeles. Our private cars were attached at the latter place to the "Los Angeles Special" bound for Chicago.

The journey northward from California on the Santa Fe Railroad is very interesting. One passes through Pasadena and Bernardino and over the famous Bernardino Pass across the mountain range which separates Southern California from the desert.

It requires two engines to take the long, heavy train over the pass which is a marvel of piece of engineering.

The road winds in and out of the canyons. Earlier in the season, one catches glimpses of snow upon the range but, at the time of our return, late September, the mountains were quite bare.

Then follows the long stretch of the desert with its sage brush and cactus everywhere. Here and there, especially as one nears Colorado, are little Indian villages with their adobe houses one story high, entered from the roof by means of ladders. The Indians in this vicinity are largely Pueblo.

At Needles, where we crossed the Colorado River, a sluggish stream at this point, Indian women came to the train with beads and pottery to sell.

Fifteen years ago the writer saw Indians in blankets riding their ponies across the desert. Now a good automobile road runs almost parallel to the train, and automobiles may be seen a triple X across my shoulders to this day.

Do Away With Mosquito and Malaria Vanishes

It is estimated that the deaths annually from malaria number some two millions, and this figure may probably be multiplied by two or three hundred if we would arrive at the total number of people in the world affected by the complaint.

Malaria is mainly a disease of the tropics, and is caused by a minute parasite in the blood. The parasites in one malaria patient may number anything from one hundred to a thousand millions. In many cases there are more parasites than there are people on the earth, and for ages it was believed that marshes and malaria were in some way connected.

Sir Ronald Ross discovered that it was not the marsh, but the mosquito which bred in the marsh which was the originator of the disease, and he declares that the parasite of malaria is, to the mosquito which carries it, as a dime would be to a hippopotamus.

When a disease-carrying mosquito bites, it injects a saliva in which are the malaria parasites. These are carried into the human circulatory system and so throughout the body.

The cure for malaria is quinine, but the prevention of malaria is the destruction of the mosquito in which it breeds.

Old Cornish Tongue Soon to Be Memory

"Nebuz Gerria Dro The Corncock" was the title of an address delivered to the members of the London Cornish association by Trelawny Roberts, one of the few men still able to speak the old tongue of Cornwall. Translated these mysterious syllables emerge as "A Few Words About Cornish."

Cornish, Mr. Roberts pointed out, is not quite so dead as is usually believed, and he produced as evidence a postcard written by a little girl of eleven, who had learned the language from her father, says the Living Age.

Prince Lucian Bonaparte is responsible for the legend that Dorothy Pentreath, who died in 1787, was the last person who spoke Cornish, a legend that is perpetuated on her tombstone.

The old lady used to swear at tourists in Cornish, usually ending with the words—in discreet Cornish—"Ugly black toad!" in exchange for the copper lavished upon her by the visitors.

John Davey of Zeenor, who did not die until 1891, could speak it fluently.

Ninety per cent of the place names in modern Cornwall show traces of the old language. In spite of the profane achievements of Mistress Pentreath, Cornish boasts few oaths. "God's curse in the kitchen" is regarded as an alarming expletive.

Famous Old Church

This year sees the three hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the demolition of the magnificent Church of St. John at Perth, the restoration of which is now contemplated.

We had gone to Tia Juana by the inland route, and our return was made by the coast route. San Diego has a curious coast formation, somewhat similar to Nantasket. There is a long peninsula, the outer edge of which forms a long, sandy beach. A large bathing pavilion and innumerable tents line the beach. We were surprised to find the shore practically deserted and no one in bathing, although it was a beautiful summer afternoon and the water looked most inviting.

Such a desire filled the hearts of some of our party to bathe in the Pacific Ocean that they donned their bathing suits and went in. They found the water very cold and filled with seaweed which accounted, in part, for the lack of bathers.

San Diego has very beautiful parks.

It is in this region that the heroine of "Ramona," Mrs. Jackson's famous story, lived. Unfortunately, however, we did not have time to visit these places.

From San Diego we went directly to the Grand Canyon in Arizona, passing a second time through Los Angeles. Our private cars were attached at the latter place to the "Los Angeles Special" bound for Chicago.

The journey northward from California on the Santa Fe Railroad is very interesting. One passes through Pasadena and Bernardino and over the famous Bernardino Pass across the mountain range which separates Southern California from the desert.

It requires two engines to take the long, heavy train over the pass which is a marvel of piece of engineering.

The road winds in and out of the canyons. Earlier in the season, one catches glimpses of snow upon the range but, at the time of our return, late September, the mountains were quite bare.

Then follows the long stretch of the desert with its sage brush and cactus everywhere. Here and there, especially as one nears Colorado, are little Indian villages with their adobe houses one story high, entered from the roof by means of ladders. The Indians in this vicinity are largely Pueblo.

At Needles, where we crossed the Colorado River, a sluggish stream at this point, Indian women came to the train with beads and pottery to sell.

Fifteen years ago the writer saw Indians in blankets riding their ponies across the desert. Now a good automobile road runs almost parallel to the train, and automobiles may be seen a triple X across my shoulders to this day.

SPRING AND SUMMER

Service by the new Scythia and Samaria, beautiful 20,000-ton oil-burners, used for the White Winter Cruises to the Mediterranean and the other, given by an unnamed friend, is an eight tube super heterodyne set.

For both of the sets the students of the training school are very thankful. One set has been installed in the living room and the other in the recreation room where the nurses when off duty have opportunity to dance to the music from orchestra in Boston, New York or other cities. Last Monday evening when the nurses had given over the use of their recreation room to the Newton Medical Club for its meeting a number of them were gathered together in the living room listening to a concert from Boston and if either one or both of the givers of the sets could have looked in on the scene he would have had pleasant testimony to the pleasure which the sets are giving to the students.

The state department of Public Safety has recently visited the hospital and thoroughly investigated its safeguards against fire. It found the hospital in excellent shape in this regard and made suggestions for one or two changes which will be made at once.

Last month because of lack of rooms the hospital was obliged to refuse eighteen requests for rooms, to use the guest room for patients four times and for six days use the rotunda in Founders for patients.

The hospital will gladly send to any who wish for it a copy of its report for the last year. Requests should be mailed to the Newton Hospital, Newton Lower Falls.

The Newton Nurses' Alumnae Bulletin has just been issued as a hand-somely printed 64 page book bound in stiff blue paper. The committee in charge of the Bulletin was made up of the Misses Katharine C. Welch, Hughie MacAfee, Myrtle Givan, Gwendolyn O'Neill, Elizabeth Young, and Ella Richardson. It contains a full page picture of the memorial tablet to William Claxton Bray, a full page picture of the class of 1924 and a great deal of matter of interest to members of the association. The clerk's report shows that the association has at present a membership of three hundred and one and an alphabetical list of the members with their addresses is printed as part of the Bulletin. During the last year there were among the members eleven deaths and nine marriages, in the same time nineteen children were born to members of the association eight of the nineteen being boys and eleven girls.

The association's annual meeting will be held this afternoon in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House for the benefit of the Mothers' Rest Association. Mrs. James D. Hymers is chairman of the committee in charge.

—Guest Night of the Wednesday Club was held last week at the home of Miss Edith Gammons on Hancock avenue. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson gave a most interesting talk on her recent experiences in South America. Refreshments were served.

ALL-NEWTON CONFERENCE

Villages Discuss Recommendations of the Central Council Recreation Survey

Twelve simultaneous "village conferences," attended by an aggregate of 50 people, formed a part of a unique joint open meeting of the Community and Civics Divisions of the Newton Central Council, held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday evening, February 13.

The village conferences were preceded by a dinner, served by a committee of the Women's Club, and a general meeting at which several ten-minute talks opened up some of the topics later discussed in the village groups. The primary purpose of the meeting was to discuss some of the recommendations of the Central Council's Recreation Survey which was made during 1924.

Hon. Thomas Weston, Chairman of the Civic Division of the Newton Central Council, presided. Mr. Grosvenor, who described briefly the important study of the Community Chest, which is being made in Newton by a committee of the Central Council.

The Committee is at present seeking the views of contributors and citizens in general. Later, when the report of the present study is available, the earliest opportunity will be given to the welfare organizations of the city to express their views regarding the desirability or undesirability of financial federation.

Arthur Dunham, Executive Secretary of the Newton Central Council, spoke on the subject, "Making the New Newton," and described the Recreation Survey and the plan of this meeting. Mrs. William A. Bedford, Chairman of the Public Health Committee of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, stressed the need of Winter Sports for Everyone."

Mayor Childs spoke in place of Mrs. R. C. Henry, Chairman of the Community Division of the Newton Central Council, on "Some Recreational Needs of the Moment." The Mayor emphasized, among other things, the need for developing Edmonds Park, the need of shelters and sanitaries at Cabot Park and Bulleth's Pond, and the question of a city golf course.

In the course of the general discussion a resolution was offered by Mr. Fred H. Tucker and was unanimously adopted, urging that Edmonds Park should be turned over to the Playground Commission for maintenance and future development and that the Board of Aldermen be urged to take such steps as are necessary to accomplish this end."

Everyone present at the conference was provided with a copy of the following outline, entitled "Building a Program of Public Recreation for Newton," and containing some of the general suggestions drawn from the Recreation Survey Report.

The following items are taken from the report of the Recreation Survey Committee of the Newton Central Council. They represent factors which need to be considered in working out a well-rounded, long-time program of public recreation for Newton. The Committee recognizes that the program presented is not one which can be fully realized in the immediate future, or even within the next ten or fifteen years. The Committee believes, however, that in public recreations, as in city planning, Newton needs a comprehensive general program, looking far into the future, and based upon conscious forethought and sane planning to meet the city's needs. It is hoped that the civic and community organizations of the city, in conference with interested citizens from the various villages, may evaluate these suggestions and may gradually determine, from the standpoint of the welfare of the whole city, in what order the various items of this program should be taken up and translated into terms of actual fulfillment.

1. Every new public school building should be planned to serve as a community center—that is, to render the broadest and most effective service to its whole community. Playrooms should be developed in the present public school buildings.

2. A Municipal Gymnasium and Swimming Pool is urgently needed.

3. Edmonds Park should be turned over to the Playground Department for development and maintenance. With its hills and valleys, this park offers an ideal opportunity and location for the development of skiing, snow-shoeing, and tobogganing. Although it would seem that Edmonds Park ought to be developed for quiet recreations, an arboretum, and bird sanctuary, yet there would be no reason why winter activities should not be planned in connection with such a development.

4. There should be a move toward creating a large city park or reservation, including a municipal golf

LIBRARIAN RESIGNS

Mr. Harold T. Dougherty, for the past nine years librarian of the Newton Free Library, has tendered his resignation to the trustees to take effect March 15th.

Mr. Dougherty resigns to enter private employment with Herman Goldberger in the magazine business. Mr. Dougherty has had charge of the library during a period of rapid growth. Its circulation in 1915 was 328,299 and in 1924 it had reached 483,676. In that same period the appropriations for library work have grown from $31,836 to $65,460.

Besides the financial growth, Mr. Dougherty has installed the house method of distribution which covers Chestnut Hill, Lower Falls and Oak Hill.

Miss Evelyn Chase will, for the present, act in the capacity of librarian.

9000 ATTEND ACTIVITIES

The year 1924 brought 9,000 to the clubs, classes and activities of the Stearns School Center.

Aside from the work at the Center the worker was able to make 369 calls in the home, 38 hospital visits and 53 clinic visits, making a total of 490 visits.

The Senior Girls' Club has been studying educational opportunities

during the past year and a course in psychology and economics are two of the courses that the girls have enjoyed. Basketball is now being featured in the club and a game is already scheduled with the Girls City

Club.

The Junior Boys' and Girls' Club have formed committees to plan for their coming dramatic period.

The next meeting of the Mothers'

Club is to be Italian Night. A speaker from Boston is planning to talk to the mothers and a musical program has already been arranged for.

One of the new clubs at the Center is the Italian Orphans' Club. This club is for Italian girls and mothers, and was organized for the purpose of helping the home for Italian Orphans at Jamaica Plain.

DELIGHTFUL PERFORMANCE

The second performance of the "Seventh Season," of the First Church Orchestra in Newton, was delightful to the massive gathering of hearers, in Bray's Hall, Newton Centre, on Lincoln's Birthday. The music was remarkable in every way, and its rendering was most commendable to the conductor, Ralph MacLean, for his care and labor, and to the players as well.

The first number, Mendelsohn's concerto, for the piano-forte, with Miss

Dorothy Parker touching the keys wonderfully for thirty-five minutes, was like the gradual mounting and heaving of the seas of an ocean; and the spirit of music lovers was heightened by the trumpets and strings as they took up the air; noticeably so when the cornet in the master (or misstress) hand of Mrs. G. W. Ulmer curled a gorgeous accompaniment in a transitory vision of emerald brilliancy. The entire program, of twelve distinct numbers, was well executed, the orchestral parts were particularly effective, and when the harpist engaged in the accompaniment there was a burst of harmony that almost lifted the audience to its feet.

Officer Frank Feeley denied that he had made an apology or that he had been discourteous to Mr. Perry. Before the discussion went further a motion for adjournment was made and no action was taken on the matter.

Secretary Mowry informed Chief

Burke that Mr. Perry had not ap-preached him about the matter, but that the meeting had been called at the request of other business men.

TRAFFIC RULES DISCUSSED

CAPTAIN CLEAR HONORED

The Newton Chamber of Commerce held a meeting in Jewett Hall of the Public Library Monday afternoon, on the present traffic ordinance as it affects Newton Square. The meeting was called to order by Secretary Mowry with about a dozen business men and as many police officers in the audience. Chief Burke, of the Newton Police Department, asked what the position of the Chamber was in regard to the matter, to which the secretary replied that the Chamber was acting as a medium for the exchange of views; and that if the business men as a whole were opposed to the ordinance as it now stands a thorough study would be made and the question of a change would be taken up with city officials. Representatives of several firms doing business in the Square spoke, although the secretary said that those who were most strongly opposed, at a previous meeting, were absent. A manager of a chain drug-store claimed that the 30-minute parking rule had increased his business, as cars were not parked in front of his store while their owners attended the movies nearby. Mr. F. J. Perry, local news-dealer, stated that he could not see much improvement, as the law was continually disregarded, and he suggested more signs to inform the public of parking restrictions.

Street Commissioner G. E. Stuart said that "silent cops" were daily being knocked down and damaged, and that new signs were being made to be placed on the curbsides.

Chief Burke stated that the summer and Christmas seasons had passed without criticism and that he, or the officers stationed in the square, had not received any complaints until this week when one of the business men in the square had reported that a police officer had been discourteous to him in his store before witnesses. The officer had asked him to remove his car from in front of his store or it would be tagged. An investigation showed the complaint to be unfounded.

Mr. F. C. Perry said that he was the man who had made the complaint but denied having been connected in any way with having the meeting called. He asked Chief Burke how the latter could say that the report was unfounded when the officer had since apologized to two women customers in the store.

Officer Frank Feeley denied that he had made an apology or that he had been discourteous to Mr. Perry. Before the discussion went further a motion for adjournment was made and no action was taken on the matter.

Secretary Mowry informed Chief

Burke that Mr. Perry had not ap-

preached him about the matter, but

that the meeting had been called at the request of other business men.

GETS REVENGE

The Newton High School swimming team, by defeating Gardner High at the Newton Y. M. C. A. tank last Friday afternoon, 33 to 17, got sweet revenge for the defeat they suffered last year at Gardner's hands. Three new tank records were made, all by Newton. Osborne nosed out Captain Perry in the 100 yard free style swim in 1 min. 13/5 sec. The relay team also established a new record by making the fast time of 1 min. 26 4/5 sec. Hammond, the Newton plunger, smashed the tank record for the plunge by doing 60 feet in 47 sec., clipping several seconds from the old mark. Gardner managed to win but one first place and that was in the dive which they almost cleaned up as Green of Newton could only get a third.

Captain Clear has made an exceptionally fine and unusual record in the army, particularly in connection with foreign duty, including three years in China with the 15th U. S. Infantry and as assistant to the intelligence officer in the Philippine Department. He recently was invited by General Ugaki, the Japanese Minister of War, to form a boxing class at the Japanese Military Academy. At the conclusion of the four months course he was presented, by the sixty officers who composed the boxing class, with a priceless sword of Old Japan, made in 1847 by the famous Masamune.

Captain Clear has a speaking knowledge of the Chinese Mandarin dialect and for the past three years has been studying the Japanese language while doing duty as an attaché to the American Embassy. During the great earthquake and fire in September, 1923, he rescued and transported over two hundred foreigners to warships standing by to give relief to the terror-stricken people.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND THE HOME

If life is made up of problems, that of "young people + (or -) the home" should be most persistently and most patiently worked out for its solution will be the key to the hardest of this world's puzzles.

Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle, D. D., is a recognized authority upon this subject and it is a matter of congratulation that Newton friends of our boys and girls may hear him speak on "Young People and the Home" next Wednesday, February 25th, at 3 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A. hall, 276 Church street, Newton. All who are interested are invited to avail themselves of this opportunity.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by
Leverett D. G. Bentley

It would give us much satisfaction if we were able to extend some helpful advice to the Newton Central Council's committee which is seeking the views of Newton citizens as to the desirability of establishing a Community Chest Plan. Everybody will agree that the committee has tackled the problem with commendable energy and an apparent desire to do what is the best for the city and its citizens. In setting before the people as they have the arguments for and against the proposition they have shown that theirs is a high purpose. We hope that their efforts will arouse the interest of the public. It does not seem there is opportunity in this column to go into the details of both sides of the question and certainly we would not wish to display snap judgment. We do know that there are men of ample means who give freely and regularly. In fact we have, at their suggestion and request, looked into cases for them in order they might learn if the objects were worthy. In so doing we learned that these men had a very complete and thorough system of giving. Their gifts to charity were many, but in a common sense way. We found that they had a budget system so that they knew where every penny of their distributions was going. It made us think that this was much better than any haphazard method. It wasn't cold, it was merely systematic. The givers in each instance were men who did not seek publicity. In fact they would insist their names not appear in print under any circumstances. To us it seemed they were most generous and if they had not been they would not have parted so freely with their money. There is in Newton no more occasion than there ever was for bolts and bars and spring-locks and all that sort of thing. We do not want to see any one the least bit alarmed over what we have written. All we ask is the proper use of the keys and locks with which a house is at present equipped. It is the easiest thing in the world to forget one has inadvertently left the latch up! And how many of us have experienced the horror of uncertainty as to whether we have gone off and left the front door open! Sometimes we wonder if the police should not be instructed to try the doors of occupied houses as they now are of unoccupied houses. Some householders might resent it and yet we believe the police would probably find that many a family had gone to bed and forgotten to "lock up for the night." People who do, are really inviting thieves where there are youngsters the problem is certain to be more difficult and yet it is capable of a solution. If there are not enough latch-keys to go round the joint use of a key is desirable. Older as well as younger folks can afford to remember the responsibility of keeping doors and windows locked. The theory of caution is not such a bad one after all.

Many readers of this column will recall with much pleasure the stage play "Shore Acres." It was acted by the veteran James A. Herne, who was also its author. It was a homely play, with a hero, a heroine and villain, but it was a very human document and appealed to all classes, including the most fastidious. There are some situations in it that we have always remembered. It is not our purpose, however, to write of more than one of them. The very final scene made a deep impression on our boyish mind. The last curtain was pretty nearly all; all wrongs had righted, all tears had given way to broad smiles, punishment had been visited upon the guilty and happiness had become the portion of the deserving. The scene showed the kitchen of the old farmhouse. The kindly old man who dominated the play had kissed the children "good night," and they had scampered off to bed. The others had gone to bed, too, leaving him to "lock up for the night." We shall never forget how he "fixed the kitchen fire," locked the windows, bolted the door and then, with candle in hand, climbed

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

F. A. Day Jr. High School

The girls of the Hygiene Club gave a baby exhibit which was held in the Teachers' Room February 17. Mr.
Carr, Miss Holmes and the teachers were invited and it proved a great success. The purpose of the exhibit was to show the care of the baby up to two years. The baby's bath was given by Helen Hughes. This was very interesting to watch as every detail of it was carefully carried out.

The dressing of the baby was done by Miriam Westgate. Good toys and poor toys were illustrated. Josephine Aceto and Doris Gullford took charge of talking about these and answered many questions. We were really quite surprised to find out that so many of our visitors knew so little about our subject. Many posters were put up around the room. These were exceptionally good and were made by the members. The notebooks kept by the members were also for observation. The exhibit was open after school from two until three.

The demonstrations of the bath, etc., were given over again for the benefit of those who were not able to see it during club period.

We are very happy to have our Library open now for the use of readers only, while the Drawing classes now meet in the next room.
Miss Hackett, who was royally welcomed after her absence of a month, is now in the former Printing Room.
Already this new class room has a very inviting appearance with its original type of chairs.

The boys defeated Somerville in basket ball and the girls defeated Watertown. Both games were very good. The G. A. A. is planning a dance this week.

Kenneth Rogers presided at the patriotic assembly program Wednesday. The following people took part:
Josephine Aceto, Robert Frye, Florence Hickey, Horton Allen, Elizabeth Clarke, Joseph Fox, Marion Whittaker,
Ruth Taft. Mr. Griffin led the singing.

Hyde School

The girls of Mrs. Blakemore's class recently gave a Valentine luncheon with Mr. Miller and Mrs. Blakemore as guests. Jeanne Manning and Gracia Halladay were the hostesses of the occasion while Barbara Nichols and Grace Godwin, acted as waitresses.

The idea of valentines was carried out in every particular of both color and shape from decorations to the food. Every girl attended to her particular duty in a very efficient manner and the party was a splendid success.

The change in the plan of serving milk from cups to the half pint bottles has resulted in an increase in the number taking milk.

The Hyde School Faculty were most pleasantly entertained last Thursday evening at a social given by the Church Aid Society of the Congregational Church.

Following the reception and words of welcome by Dr. Woodrow and Mrs.

MacIntosh, a delightful musical program was presented. This consisted of piano solos by Mrs. Simon, vocal selections by Mrs. Leavitt and Mr.

Brooks and the reading of a one act play by Mrs. Gove.

During the period devoted to refreshments a social time was enjoyed.
The guests of the evening greatly appreciated the pleasant evening which had been so well planned by Mrs.
Lewis.

Two very interesting patriotic programs in celebration of Lincoln's and Washington's Birthdays were given in the assembly hall. The first was given by the primary grades 1-4, under the direction of Miss Barnard and Miss Jewett. The program consisted of patriotic songs, recitations and memory gems appropriate to the occasion.

The second was given by grades five and six. Grades five contributed a play featuring customs of Colonial times and a very pretty flag exercise.

The sixth grades presented a play entitled "Lincoln the Surveyor" and rendered several patriotic songs in a very pleasing manner.

On Lincoln's Birthday according to an annual custom, Miss Hanscom read
"The Perfect Tribute" to the combined eighth grades. Miss Prentice read to the sevenths, "The Key to Jim's Heart," the story of a boy, a dog—and Abraham Lincoln.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The "Sunny Hour" Book Club of Grade VII planned a special program for Lincoln Week. Stories concerning the life of Lincoln were read by Harold Strombom, and Mary Simoni; quotations and the Gettysburg speech were rendered by Walter Billings and Edward Osborn.

The book reviews written by Helen Warren, Evelyn Fisher, Dorothy Lynes, Maurice Seery, and Arnold Segur were interesting. Elizabeth Dugan read a story from the "Newton-ton."

Anthony Khorey read an original story entitled "Ode of Arabia," based upon our Social Studies work.

Mason School

In spite of some inclement weather, the following pupils of the Mason School had perfect attendance during the first half of the school year—from the eighth grade, Wallace Burns, Eola Niles, Richard Winslow, Miriam McAskill, Claire
McCarthy, Francis Ober, Alfred Reiss, Bartlett Thoroughgood, Galen Bloom,
Jack Harmon, Edward Leitner, Paul Petitmetre, Richard Rice, John Roché; from the grade seven, Paul Barry, Philip Cavanaugh, Ralph Orill, Beatrice Young, Robert
Nickerson, John Richardson, Anna
MacKenzie; from the sixth grade, William Dunn, Janet Hill, John Palmer and Rosa Saltz, Phoebe Coombs, Florence Haines; from the fifth grade,
Eleanor Bentley, Elizabeth Cleverdon,
Jacqueline Hall, Cornelius Lane, Mary
Fitzgerald, George Orr, Mary Lane, Thurman Philoon, Annie Satz, Helen Whiteman; from grade four, Frederick Bentley, Josephine Cappadonna, David Dennison, Alfre Ernest, Richard Mc-Eldowney, Dorothy Sanders, Ruth Washburn, Barbara and Richard Wilson, Virginia Woodruff; from grade three Stephen Blodgett, Robert Dunn, Wendell Mick, Richard Ledbetter, Madeleine Phaneuf, Margaret Mansfield and Frances Conrad.

clubs held their meetings on Monday afternoon with varied programs. The object of such clubs as these is to help pupils to take the lead in the right way and to enjoy the responsibility which comes from making the program a success.

The grades met in the hall on Friday for the Washington's Birthday exercises.

Williams School

On February 12 the sixth grade gave time to the study of Lincoln's life and the lessons learned from it never seem to grow old. Each one in the class had a part. Many new facts printed for the first time this year, were culled from the daily papers and used in this exercise.

Poetry is receiving more than passing notice and is being enjoyed by the class. The Newton Free Library has lent its cooperation to the project.

The sixth grade have received letters from two of its members who are in Florida. We used our language period one day last week for answering the same. Our travelers wrote of a safe arrival, after experiencing floods along the way, making them late in reaching their destination. They also spoke of the severe cold in Washington.

Each child has constructed a radio of his own. They are simple affairs of cardboard or small wooden boxes with paper dials, a set of ear phones of cardboard attached to the box by means of twine to represent the wires.
It has been possible to use these very successfully in both language and geography.

In spite of the vast amount of sickness among the children in many places the fifth grade has been fortunate in being able to maintain one hundred per cent many days this month.

The fifth grade boys and girls have mastered several three part songs of which they are very proud.
They have worked especially for tone and expression.

Several boys and girls have done some very creditable health posters in water colors.

Each Friday afternoon the children in grade four entertain their classmates for a half hour. The program is left entirely with them and consists of piano solos, readings, original stories, etc.

This hour is looked forward to by both teacher and pupils. On Lincoln's birthday appropriate exercises were held, among which were stories and anecdotes of Lincoln's life. Helen Shepard read to her classmates "The Perfect Tribute" by Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews. This was much enjoyed by the class.

At 2:15 Wednesday afternoon the third grade entertained twenty-nine parents with a Japanese party. The program rendered was as follows:

Welcome in Japanese. Reading from "The Japanese Twins" Japanese dance, language lesson on Japan, telling of Japanese stories, refreshments of Japanese rice cakes, farewell in Japanese.

The room was prettily decorated with cherry blossoms. Curios and embroideries were brought in by the children.

The second grade has about completed its project in connection with the reading of "The Eskimo Twins."

This has taken the form of an Eskimo village constructed as follows:

The resignation of Mr. Harold T. Dougherty as Librarian of the Free Library is a serious loss to the educational department of the city. Mr. Dougherty has placed the library on a fine foundation and it has been doing a great service to the community. We extend to Mr. Dougherty our best wishes in his new business.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

State House, February 19.—It is to be presumed that enough republicans will stand together to carry through the Senate and House the demand of the last republican state convention for amendment of the primary law, and to provide for return to state conventions for the nomination of party candidates. Their plan includes only the four minor places on the state ticket,—the secretary, treasurer, auditor, and attorney general. The two major places,—governor and lieutenant governor,—they leave to be filled by the direct primary, as at present. This will leave the nominations of candidates for the Senate and House and the other positions under the primary law just the same as now. Thus there will be no saving of expense by the change, for the day and the functions will continue to be observed. But it will give opportunity for trial of whatever experiments may be made to overcome the evils of the old convention system. If the experiments succeed, then it is to be expected that the convention system will be restored.

One reason for expecting such restoration is that the arguments against the primary are as effective in case of a candidate for a minor place on the state ticket as in case of a major place. In either instance, the rich man has so great an advantage over the candidate of small means that the latter might as well not start in the race, unless he has other grounds of expecting to win than his ability to pay large campaign bills. Candidates of exceptional popularity may have a hold on their constituents which will put them through to victory, but very few are in that class.

The main objection at the committee hearing to the proposed change came from Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, who said that it would be a return to the old corrupt convention system. But there is the very point in dispute. The republican leaders hope to invent some way to secure the evident benefits of conventions without their evils, especially those evils which led to the adoption of direct primaries.

Whatever happens, our people have had experience enough to know that no political machine can be invented to take the place of intelligent voters and responsibility to them on the part of the officeholders. We have tried it with biennial elections and have failed lamentably.

Last year the editor of The Graphic was one of the speakers before the committee on constitutional law in favor of the petition for return to annual state elections. Support for his position is found in the constituency of The Graphic. Such supporters will have an opportunity to be heard at the hearing on February 25 before the committee on constitutional laws on a similar petition this year. At the same session will be heard the petition for biennial sessions of the legislature, which have also the endorsement of Governor Fuller and of the last Republican State Convention. As the two propositions are directly antagonistic, it is to be hoped that each side will have its arguments carefully thought out and put in form so that each side can be held down to direct, positive statements, and not be suffered to wander off into vague generalities which are nothing but personal prejudices more or less supported by equally worthless popular opinion. It will be remembered that in 1896, after the Republican party, officially, by crack of the party whip, had forced the biennial elections amendment through the legislature, it was THIRTY—GRAPHIC defeated at the polls by over 50,000. It had the strong opposition of such leaders as Senator George F. Hoar, Senator Henry L. Dawes, Governor John D. Long, Collector Alanson W. Beard, Congressmen Joseph H. Walker (father of the present Joseph Walker) and William S. Knox. Mayor Elihu B. Hayes of Lynn, father of the Australian ballot, and hosts of other Republicans who refused to follow the nominal leaders. It is a part of the present unfortunate and hurtful situation that all of the Republicans on the committee of the constitutional convention who heard the petitions for biennials of both sorts were unanimous against them, and that the biennial election amendment went through the convention only because its opponents were asleep at the switch. Then the people, without any discussion, voted by a majority for the evil thing, though it had less than 34 per cent of the voters who went to the polls. There is an opportunity for our new women voters to make themselves heard on the right side on February 25.

Women of the Newton Community Club, Inc., who are interested in the petition of Mrs. Nelly Conlidge Keach, president, for a law to prohibit the present form of contracts for moving picture films, whereby customers agree to take the output of a producer, seem to have made no effort to overcome the adverse report of the committee on mercantile affairs. They had their hearing and put in arguments which seemed worthy of consideration. But their petition was reported reference to the next annual session without dissent. This report was accepted in the Senate without debate or incident. It was in the House calendar for yesterday, in charge of Representative Hunnewell of Boston. But it was not passed for debate, even, and was accepted on the first call of the calendar. If the women had been as combative or as persistent as some petitioners are, they would have found some legislative friend to move to substitute their bill for the adverse report. They could have given him a lot of material for a good speech. Thus they would have forced the opposition to give its reasons also, and there might have been an illuminating debate with benefit to the petitioners. They would, at least, have contributed to the enlightenment of the members, for it is to be expected, according to the report, that it will come up at the next session. The members will be the same then as they are this year, and so something might have been done toward the education of the House for better understanding next time.

The committee on mercantile affairs has not reported upon the companion petition of the Newton Community Club, Inc., for regulation of the problem of Christmas greens and trees which had the same petitioners and was heard at the same time. If the petitioners surrender easily, then they are not as likely to accomplish something as if they put some pressure upon the legislators. From remarks which have been dropped by interested persons, it seems that some people are forming opinions of some others for which they did not at first have as much of a basis of fact as they have now, from which it appears that there is another illustration of the old saying that "distance lends enchantment to the view" with the implication that nearness lends something else. Perhaps nearness, sufficiently repeated, will convince the women that close accountability to the people and ability on the part of the people to hold their representatives to frequent accountability are important factors in securing good legislation.

course. While much of the land bordering Newton is maintained as a park by the Metropolitan District Commission, yet the area of Newton is so large and there are such possibilities of increase of population, that it would seem wise to lay plans in the near future for a real city reservation.

5. Shelter buildings and sanitaries should be constructed on the shores of Crystal Lake and Bullough's Pond for use in connection with the skating. Crystal Lake should be properly developed for swimming and skating and adequate bath-houses should be constructed.

6. More streets should be set aside for sliding in winter. All such sliding areas should be placed under the supervision of the Playground Department.

7. Municipal funds should be made available for summer concerts and "dancing on the green" at playgrounds.

8. More musical and singing societies should be organized.

9. Greater attention should be paid to national celebrations.

10. Ultimately the program of the Playground Department will require the development of a full-time, year-round staff.

After the speeches and the general discussion the meeting resolved itself into twelve village conferences which met in various parts of the room under the direction of the following group leaders:

Auburndale Dr. J. A. Furbish
Charlestown John A. Warren
Newton Clarence V. Moore
Newton Centre (including Thompsonville) William H. Rice
Newton Highlands William F. Coan
Newton Lower Falls

George M. Heathcote
Newton Upper Falls Mary V. Croker
Newtonville Augustus L. Wakefield
Nonantum Edwin O. Childs
Oak Hill Frederick Estey
Waban Walter J. Meadows
West Newton Dr. Donald Macomber

In addition to specific suggestions regarding matters of local interest, the following statement was submitted to each village group.

The following matters have been referred for consideration of each Village Group. It is asked that your group consider how far these suggestions may apply to your Village:

"1. Many playgrounds need fences and some need re-grading. Larger appropriations should be made for beautifying the playgrounds.

"2. Some of the small parks or squares should be developed for playground use by little children. The small parks thus used should be put under the supervision, care, and maintenance of the Playground Department.

"3. Additional swimming beaches should be developed at various points on the Charles River.

"4. Is there already or ought there to be, in your village, some local committee or other group which may serve as a channel of intercommunication between the people of the village and the administration of the Newton Free Library? It would seem that it ought to be possible for the Library officials to turn to such a group for information and suggestions regarding local needs and desires; and, on the other hand, such a group ought to consider the service and problems of the local library and formulate any suggestions which may aid the library in giving more effective service to the people of the village. (It is recognized that the function here suggested may already be performed by some committee of the Improvement Association, Women's Clubs, etc.) It is suggested that such a local group might study the need for separate quarters for children and the need for a small hall for study groups, in connection with the branch library of the Village."

Reports of the various village conferences will be forwarded by the group leaders to the Central Council and will be made public at a later date.

Throughout the Conference emphasis was laid upon the fact that the various recommendations submitted were parts of general public recreation program which might well extend over thirty or forty years. The Council is of course not urging that all these suggestions be adopted at once; it is seeking to stimulate thought about these programs and to begin a process of sifting the various recommendations, determining their relative urgency, and moving toward the solution of some of those problems which seem to be of most immediate importance.

There is so much interest now in the popular indoor game of squash racquets that Newton men should have more facilities to play it. Among college and club men squash racquets has grown amazingly. One thousand students are now playing the game at Harvard University and the courts at the Clubs and Colleges in Greater Boston are overcrowded.

At the Newton Y. M. C. A. two four-wall handball courts are not sufficient to meet the demand for that game. Two squash racquets courts would relieve the congestion among the handball players and also double the number who could secure exercise by playing either handball or squash racquets.

The cost of two first class courts would be about $6,000. Mr. G. Fred Harwood has given $1,000 to start a fund to build two courts at The Newton Y. M. C. A. Are there others who will join with Mr. Harwood in his endeavor to secure this splendid equipment for the use of the young men of Newton?

Mr. Theodore R. Lockwood of the firm of Lockwood, Brackett & Company gave a most interesting talk at The Fellowship Club on Monday evening, February 16th, on the manufacture of pure castile soap and olive oil. Mr. Lockwood had some beautiful pictures of Spanish Castles and Spanish scenes, besides a great many photographs showing the actual manufacture of the soap in Spain. Many lingered after it was over to ask questions. Mr. Lockwood presented each one present with a box of castile soap.

On account of the holiday next week there will be no meeting of the Fellowship Club, but it is expected that on March 2nd, Rev. Henry A. Arnold, pastor of Eliot Church will speak.

Only seven full time places are now open at The Frank A. Day Camp for the season 1925. There are, however, a number of part time places, ranging from two to five weeks, which are open for those who do not care to go the full season.

Right-of-way Week for Association Men, the Y. M. C. A. National Monthly Magazine, resulted in forty-three subscriptions to this popular Association paper.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball team lost to Cambridge Y. M. C. A. 37 to 29 last Saturday in a very closely contested game at The Newton Y. M. C. A. gym. Wellman and Irving featured for Newton while Clark and Moody showed up best for Cambridge.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Council Hike Saturday was a great success and was enjoyed by over one hundred scouts besides many officers, parents and guests. There was a 'Treasure Hunt,' the first prize, a genuine Boy Scout knife being won by Scout Mabey of Troop 2, Auburndale, and the second prize, a special Scout whistle going to Scout Cain of Troop 9, West Newton. Troop 11, furnished refreshments, soup and crackers to callers, the materials being provided by the Council. Troop 10 of Waban and Troop 7 of West Newton made a final selection of a spot for their camps, which will be built in the near future. Instructions for clearing the land for planting trees were read by Commissioner Carley as the forester, Mr. Crosbie was unavoidably absent.

CITY HALL

Public Buildings Commissioner Chadwick announced Monday that all of the bids submitted three weeks ago for the new high school in Newtonville had been rejected as being too high. The cost of the school as estimated from the bids submitted would amount to almost $900,000, not including the furnishings. Contractors will soon be asked to submit new bids with slightly different specifications, and it is hoped that $100,000 may be shaved from the cost.

Water Commissioner Whitney issued an explanation Monday of the unusual taste and discoloration of the city water last week. The recent thaws and rains resulted in the water becoming exceedingly soft, which acted as a solvent and ate away much of the rust from the inside of the pipes. The officials cut in on the Metropolitan water system and conditions rapidly cleared away.

BAGS

A very clever farce called, "Bags," written by Mrs. Nelson A. Hallett of Newtonville, was presented on Monday in the Parish House of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Parish.

Both acts were laid in the home of Mrs. Work, a widow with two daughters, one active, energetic, the other indolent, whose favorite phrase is "You do it, Hester."

Other characters were a colored maid who is an intimate part of the family life, an inquisitive neighbor, and Mrs. Work's sister and her husband who have come to visit her.

The dialogue was bright and witty throughout the play, and Act 2 where "Caleb" becomes absorbed in the radio was exceedingly funny and much appreciated by the audience.

The wrapping up of the "bags" too, was very naturally done.

"Arabella," the colored maid, Mrs. Richard A. Thayer, added much to the enjoyment of the play by her make-up and acting. The inquisitive neighbor was a type easily recognized and well played by Mrs. Harold B. Wilder.

Mrs. F. Harmon Curtis made an excellent "Caleb" and Mrs. Nelson A. Hallett, the author, was a charming "Amanda," while Mrs. Charles E. Dennison, Mrs. Rollo S. Hudson, and Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis were natural and convincing in their parts.

Altogether the farce was unusually well written and acted. At its close, Mrs. Hallett was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers.

Following the play, a Valentine tea was held with Mrs. Carl Bigelow, President of the Auxiliary, in charge. The tables were most attractive with their red candles, red carnations and red heart candies.

Assisting Mrs. Bigelow were the officers of the Auxiliary: Mrs. Harry Anderson, Mrs. John Masters, Mrs. C. Arthur Boutelle, Mrs. E. V. Alley, Mrs. Edward Bell, Mrs. H. L. Winslow, Mrs. C. L. Norton, Mrs. H. W. Schaschke, Mrs. John L. Barry, Mrs. W. B. Barclay, Mrs. R. C. Carle.

Aderman Heathcote presented City Affairs, taking the place of Mayor Childs who was unable to fulfill his engagement, owing to important business which came up and called him out of town. He gave a most unusual and interesting account of various matters which have recently taken the attention of the Board of Aldermen, making his point that in those instances where public opinion of the better grade insisted upon being heard that the right thing was accomplished, in spite of all political pressure, but that where a right-minded public remained indifferent it became hard to uphold the courageous, (and unpopular, politically), stand of officials who were trying against odds to do the honorable thing. Questions and discussion brought out much that would prove food for thought for the audience.

Mr. Griffin, Director of Music in the schools, sang a group of songs that were most pleasing, and his voice gave the pleasure which it always gives to those who have been privileged to hear him before, and must surely have brought new admirers into his court. His ease, control of tone, and an agreeable resonance, only added to the delightful quality of his voice.

Senator James Moran, of Mansfield, gave a careful description of the course taken by every petition which is presented to the Legislature—a bit of instruction that was of special interest since so seldom does any one take the pains or have the thoughtfulness to bring forward this business which to so many is a mystery—and then explained why he was against compulsory jury service for women. His legal point that this law brought compulsion upon women, whereas the law providing that men give jury service was not compulsory, since based upon a constitutional article, was a phase of the situation that is not always brought out, and certainly not generally known, and is a legal fact that must make thoughtful every citizen who has fears as to the growing danger of encroaching compulsory measures.

His viewpoint on prison reform and the expense of a new State Prison, coming from the inside, as it does, of a study of conditions as they are, and not as idealists and altruists would like to see them, aroused new thoughtfulness, and to the fair-minded person pointed out the fallacy of giving to criminals all the luxuries and modern improvements they would enjoy as honest citizens, at the expense of the taxpayer. Too often, he said, people forget how it happens that these persons are in prison—for a terrible crime which destroyed the happiness of a household, over which we expended pity at the time, but alas!—with the passage of time we forget the grief and tragedy for which this criminal is responsible and become sorry for him in his narrow cell and seek to supply him with the pleasures and comforts of the outside, honorable world!

Senator Moran's words were so sincere, so straightforward, and his courage of convictions so admirable, that he won the sympathy and respect of the vast majority of his audience, even when in a few instances these hearers may not have agreed with him. That a large number did agree with him was evidenced, not only by the frequent bursts of enthusiastic applause but by the comments heard afterwards, and by the expressions of pleasure to him personally in the social hour which followed the meeting.

Mrs. William H. White was special guest of honor, and she spoke briefly on the courtesy which audiences should show to their lecturers, artists, and musicians, in close attention, and in the silence accorded to them. Her words of wisdom may well be considered—and put into practice!

Many expressions of pleasure in the meeting were made, and it is evident that it was of interest to all who attended.

EMMA D. COOLIDGE, Editor

State Federation

An account of the program was given somewhat in full in last week's Graphic, so it will not be repeated here. The morning session opens at ten o'clock. The place of meeting is in the Malden Auditorium, on Pleasant street, Malden, and Malden Old and New Club is the Hostess. Credentials can be stamped as early as nine o'clock. A train leaves the North Station at 8:10 A. M. Special trolleys leave Everett Station, if one goes by Elevated, at 9:15. Luncheon will be served in four Malden churches.

Newton Federation

Legislative Afternoon for the Newton Federation was a most interesting meeting in the new Junior High School, Newtonville. This was the midwinter meeting, and instead of discussing the various measures brought forward by the State Federation, and which are being discussed painstakingly in the individual clubs by thorough and competent Legislative Chairmen, speakers were seated who would bring before the club women's general knowledge on City, State and Federal Affairs. Mrs. Ernest Cobb, President, opened the meeting, then placed it in charge of the Legislative Chairman, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, who introduced the speakers.

Aderman Heathcote presented City Affairs, taking the place of Mayor Childs who was unable to fulfill his engagement, owing to important business which came up and called him out of town. He gave a most unusual and interesting account of various matters which have recently taken the attention of the Board of Aldermen, making his point that in those instances where public opinion of the better grade insisted upon being heard that the right thing was accomplished, in spite of all political pressure, but that where a right-minded public remained indifferent it became hard to uphold the courageous, (and unpopular, politically), stand of officials who were trying against odds to do the honorable thing. Questions and discussion brought out much that would prove food for thought for the audience.

Mr. Griffin, Director of Music in the schools, sang a group of songs that were most pleasing, and his voice gave the pleasure which it always gives to those who have been privileged to hear him before, and must surely have brought new admirers into his court. His ease, control of tone, and an agreeable resonance, only added to the delightful quality of his voice.

For the regular meeting of the Club on Friday, February 13th, the children of members furnished the complete program. In honor of Lincoln's birthday, the famous Gettysburg address was given by Master Clendenning Smith. Master Curtis Church acted as page and announced each number. Dances were given by Miss Ruth Holbrook, Miss Dorothy Brackett, Nancy and Betty Schofield, Esther and Dorothy Smith; piano solos by Master Paul Noonan, Jean Wolley and Eleanor Vaughn; recitations and songs by Priscilla and Julia Bacon and Betty Halliwell, readings by Miss Irene Smith, and songs by Richard Schofield. Mrs. Charles E. Cunningham made a very efficient chairman, and under her able direction the children all gave a very pleasing performance. Refreshments were dauntly served by the Hospitality Committee, in charge of Mrs. Clarence S. Angell.

The lecture on "Current Events" before the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday, February 17th, by the much-loved ex-president of the State Federation, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, was the clear, concise, impartial talk which always delights and instructs her audience. Those who pride themselves on being fairly well-read welcome her pungent summing-up of outstanding events, and those less well-informed drink in knowledge as from a well. First, considering affairs in Washington, after a brief summary of the recent losses in Congress and of a few prominent figures, some of the legislative matters were considered. We shall not enter the World Court this session, neither will the 21-year-old treaty of the Isle of Pines be ratified. The Cape Cod Canal bill will possibly go through, and the Postal Increase bill. Other matters to be considered are the French Spoliation claims (with a delightful anecdote to make its value clear) and the Wade-Warren Amendment. Next we considered the matter of presidential appointments, with a clear presentation of what are the president's rights in such matters. The upsetting of Congress by the Reparations Conference in Paris in January, and our withdrawal from the Opium Conference, because we refuse to compromise brought up the general question of conferences, and the busy times in conferences of all sorts all over the world. Last, in this country, we learned of the new French ambassador.

Conditions in Germany were next brought before us, their superfluity of political parties, and their very human attitude in desiring revenge, and preparing for it. Russia was next considered, its recognition by Japan for oil concessions in Saghalin, the good and bad marks to the credit of the Soviet Government; and the question "Will we, too, recognize Russia?" With a plea for better understanding with the rest of the world, the instructive talk was concluded, and opportunity given for questions, of which several club members availed themselves.

The Club Trio was unable to sing, as had been announced, but a most acceptable substitute was found in Miss Katherine Carver, who played before Mrs. Poole's lecture. Two Preludes by Chopin; "The Knitters" by Couperin; and Litzl's "La Campanella" were played with exquisite charm, a delightful phrasing, and beautiful touch. A social hour, with tea, concluded the afternoon's program.

Mrs. William H. White was special guest of honor, and she spoke briefly on the courtesy which audiences should show to their lecturers, artists, and musicians, in close attention, and in the silence accorded to them. Her words of wisdom may well be considered—and put into practice!

Many expressions of pleasure in the meeting were made, and it is evident that it was of interest to all who attended.

Recent Events

The Musical of the Newton Community Club last Thursday was a most delightful and successful affair. Mrs. William H. White, Director of the twelfth district, was guest of honor, and her brief speech indicative of her keen logic on legislative questions, as well as worded with the kindness and friendliness which always characterizes her utterances.

Carmella Ippolito, with her violin selections gave much pleasure and showed her mastery of her instrument. Mr. Rulon Robinson's tenor voice was excellent, and his choice of songs gave opportunity to show his control of tones and understanding of technique. Jesus Sanroma's piano selections were admirably rendered and, what is rare in an artist, his accompaniments for the singer and violinist were noteworthy for his submergence of his ability in furthering the presentation of the other artist.

The Americanization Committee, Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, Chairman, played gracious hostesses to the special guests, and these latter enjoyed and were enjoyed by the club members. Among the guests were the following: Mesdames W. Ardwick, M. Estelle Seaver, Rose Ardwick, Lucy Antonelli, Ida M. Binks, M. Barry, H. Burns, May Bedard, Mary Babbitt, Rose Bram, Celina Boudreau, Paul Champagne, Henrietta Caya, Marie Doucette, Nicolina Fantasia, Eulalie Guimond, Annie Gingras, L. Hopkins, Aurora Incorvati, Anna Incorvati, Bertha Koch, Lillian Kosofian, Leach, A. Landry, E. Lombardi, Martin Le Fevre, Eugenia MacDonald, Julia Marchant, Georgianna Masse, Murdock, Mollie Melman, S. F. Parkhurst, Sophie Roy, Josephine Roy, Amanda Raissean, Julie Roche, Bertha Schwartz, Joseph Sivigny, F. Seward, Fannie Sheiman, J. Trumbull, Sarah Yanco, Annie Womboldt, and the Misses Pauline Yetten, Mary Burke, Ada Boudreau, Odile Cayer, Bessie Lessowitz, Beatrice Mether, Antoinette Methot, and Juliette Trotter.

Refreshments were served later in the parlors below, for which announcement of the social hour the president had at the end of the business meeting asked members to "stand by" as they say on the radio. The meeting was quite the most enjoyable of the year, and this is saying much, for there has not been a program since then but has been most successful.

"The Informal Essay" was the subject for the morning of February 10th for the Review Club. In the beginning Mrs. C. Winthrop Blood, chairman of the morning, stated that it was the lives itself that was to be studied, the lives of the authors.

Mrs. Ernest Drew, who read Mrs. Samuel Dike's paper only touched lightly on the lives of the four men whose works she had to review, Tanner, Morley, Gay and Halliday. A wonderfully keen bit of humor was a little essay by an unknown author, "Endeavor and I conduct an Orchestra" and another, also bright and interesting, "Henry James, himself," by Halliday. Miss Bridgeman's piano selections were thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. C. Winthrop Blood read bits from Arnold Bennett and Benson's "Growing Older."

Mrs. Charles Kattelle's description of Chesterton and Heyward Brown, and little essay on "An interview of Chesterton" by Heyward Brown, with two short essays on "Judge Kruck" and "Frankincense and Myrrh" closed the program. It was a most unusual, unique, and delightful morning.

A group of Symphony players, including Mr. Gaston Bladet, flutist, Mr. Carl Barth, cellist, and Mr. Arthur Fiedler, pianist, assisted by Miss Doris Emerson, soprano soloist, furnished talent for the annual musical of the Newton Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon.

The programme, admirably adapted to the occasion from the points of view of sprightliness and length, included "Sous les Tillieus" by Massenet; "Romance," Debussy; "Valse, Holman;" "Meditation from 'Thaïs,'" Massenet; "Les Perles, Leroux; Sattler, Dello, Demersseman; and the Frio Weber. Following the opening number, Miss Emerson sang "Charmant Oiseau" from David's "La Perle du Brasil," and before the closing number rendered an ambitious group: "Mary of Allendale" from an old English melody, "Ave Maria," Bruch's in "The Cross of Fire" and Mozart's "Alleluia." Miss Emerson has a voice of unusual volume and resonance, and, for so young a singer displays unusual mastery of vocal technique.

The concert brought keen enjoyment to the large audience, which showed its appreciation by rapt attention and spontaneous applause.

On Wednesday, February 18th, before the Social Science Club Mrs. George E. Merrill read a paper of startling interest on "The Immigrant, an Asset or a Liability."

Mrs. Merrill caught the attention of the club by describing three personal experiences with the problem of immigration showing her study and interest in the problem through a number of years.

In sketching the history of immigration the paper brought out the contrast between the early immigrant of Anglo-Saxon heritage prior to 1880 and the immigrant since 1880 from Central and Southern Europe. The latter, coming for money solely, and willing to endure fearful living conditions for gain, thus proving undesirable citizens.

At our entrance into the World War a searchlight was turned on the whole country bringing out the amazing situation of a great many distinct and large settlements of the different races of recent immigrants instead of the so called "Melting Pot." For these people were shown to be continuing in their former customs and manner of living even with the newspapers in their language dealing with conditions in their old countries, with the exception of two races only, which do give the news of our United States.

The menace of certain race immigration, even under present restrictions, is the cause of grave concern for the future of our land.

Education is the only solution offered for this problem i addition to the limited immigration laws of the present day.

The paper was followed by active discussion contributed to by many of the members.

A rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Merrill closed the meeting.

READ FUND LECTURE

Prof. Edward Howard Briggs Lectures on Shakespeare
In First of Series

The first of a series of lectures on Shakespeare, by Edward Howard Briggs, was given in the Hunnewell Club, Newton, on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Read Fund.

The large number present was a tribute to the lecturer, who is well known in Boston and vicinity, and also would seem to indicate that there are many in Newton who value a course of lectures on such a subject. A syllabus of the course gave to those who wished an opportunity to study the plays in advance.

At the opening of his lecture, Professor Briggs said that "true genius is humanity multiplied"; that the genius is not less but more human than his fellow men; he has lived more deeply than they enjoyed more, suffered more, even in some cases, sinned more. The test of a masterpiece is that it may be interpreted by each of us in terms of our own life.

In the development of Shakespeare's art, the speaker noted three stages: the period of the early comedies; the period of the great tragedies; and the period of the later romances.

In the "Merchant of Venice," Shakespeare is awakening for the first time to an understanding of the deeper side of life. This play was produced about 1596 when Shakespeare was thirty-two years of age.

The play has great lyric beauty, the lines are what the characters might have said had they been able to express themselves in perfect form.

There are many improbabilities in the play, such as the casket scene, and the incident of the pound of flesh, but so great is the art of the play that we forget these improbabilities in our interest in the characters themselves.

In "The Mid-Summer Night's Dream" the characters themselves are improbable. In the Merchant of Venice it is the setting of the characters which is improbable, the characters being true to nature.

The speaker gave a very beautiful description of Venice at the time of Shylock, and then went on to show how Shakespeare in this play, as in his greatest plays, strikes the key note in the opening paragraph where, the reader will remember, Antonio is won over the non-arrival of his ships.

Shylock is, of course, the hero of the play. His is the part always taken by the great actors. Professor Briggs said that he did not know whether Shylock was young enough to be born with the suppressed hatred of the Christians born of his bitter experiences. In demanding his pound of flesh he only shows his deeply human character. His love for his dead wife, and for his daughter, are glimpses of his many-sided character.

Jessica is a good example of the unconscious cruelty of adolescence. She deeply wounds her father in the two ways in which he is most sensitive, by marrying a Christian, and by taking his hard earned money.

In the court scene one wonders why the Duke allowed such a monstrous contract as that of Shylock to stand before the law. This, the speaker said, was because he feared the other merchants of Venice if he allowed a contract to be broken.

The speaker dwelt on the charm of Portia, and pointed out that she her-

K OF C PARTY

Monday night Washington's Birthday at the Newton Catholic Club, West Newton, Newton Council, K. of C. Home Association staged their "biggest and best party in years," a Mardi Gras Costume Ball.

Hundreds of George Washingtons, colonial dames, Quaker maids, sheiks, Miss 1925's, firemen from Henniker, Mexican señoritas, king's jesters, clowns, ballet girls, enjoyed the spirit of a Mardi Gras celebration with no expense spared to make the event epoch making in Newton Council history. Bill Boyle's Copley Plaza hotel orchestra—the orchestra that played for the Prince of Wales on his visit to the North Shore—played under the personal direction of Mr. Boyle. The Club was in gala attire and all the fixin's that go to making a Mardi Gras a merry, hilarious celebration were enjoyed.

State, district and local officers of the Knights of Columbus together with an active Home Association and women's committee have worked for weeks on the arrangements under the direction of Charles E. Coyne, Vice President of the Home Association and Lecturer of the Council. With all the details of arrangements completed the stage was set for what charter members of Newton Council declared to be the "biggest and best party in years."

Twelve valuable prizes were awarded, first and second awards being made to men and women in three classes—most attractive, most original and most grotesque. The grand march was begun at 9 o'clock and was led by Grand Knight and Mrs. William Gerity.

The General Committee was Charles E. Coyne, Chairman, William J. Geegan, Thomas Waters, Edwin D'Arcy, William Gerity, John Fitzgerald, Edward Kivell, Daniel Hannigan, John F. Gallagher, John Nolan, John J. Francis, James Waters, John Fitzpatrick, John Dunton, William Cahill, George Linnehan, William J. Doherly, President, ex-officio.

Mrs. George Brophy headed the Women's Committee, assisted by Mrs. John Gallagher, Mrs. John J. Cronin, Misses Edna Moire, Lillian Matthews, Eleanor Gallagher.

BOY SCOUT RISKS LIFE

Saturday afternoon Fred Hill of Newton Highlands a Boy Scout of the Highlands troop No. 4, risked his life in Crystal Lake to save a 60-pound airedale dog owned by Wm. M. Paxton of Newton Centre. The dog, a valuable thoroughbred, had gone through rotten ice about 200 feet from shore and his yelps attracted the attention of Charles Carson, who is employed by the Ice Company nearby, who made a valiant attempt to rescue Topper, the dog. Carson broke thru the ice himself and barely managed to reach shore unaided. Meanwhile Hill, a sixteen-year-old lad and a freshman in the high school, was running towards the dog with a coil of rope which the police department had placed on the shore as a safety measure. When he neared the dog and the ice had shown signs of giving way Hill dropped to the ice and crept as near to Topper as he dared. Casting the rope, in which he had made a noose, towards the dog's head he set himself to pull the dog to safety. The noose missed Topper's head but his jaws closed upon it tightly. Hill began to pull but the weight of the dog caused the ice to break and Hill was plunged into the icy water. He came up under the ice and here it was that his training as a scout served him as he was forced to bring all his knowledge of swimming into play to save himself. He succeeded in crawling back onto sound ice, and after retrieving his rope made another cast at the dog's head. This time he succeeded in lassoing the dog and he pulled Topper to safety.

A call to the fire department had been sent in and Captain Turner of Ladder 2 and Chief Randlett had come to the scene. They declared that Hill had handled the situation admirably and took Hill to his home on Lake Avenue, while Topper was taken into the ice-house where he was warmed.

Young Hill modestly refrained from discussing hisfeat except to say that his Boy Scout training enabled him to save the dog. Hill is the son of Mrs. Grace P. Hill, who recently moved to Southbridge while her son remained in Newton to finish his course at the high school.

GOLDEN HAIR AND THE THREE BEARS

"Golden Hair and the Three Bears" is the name of the operetta given by the children of Our Lady's School, Newton, under the direction of Miss S. Theresa McCarthy, in the new school hall last Sunday.

The cast included Florence Hennessey, Margaret Crowley, Paul Quinlan, Rosanna Flanagan, Mildred Jordan, Helen Foley, Mary Lyman, John Reinhardt, Lawrence Thomas, Francis Greeley, and Catherine M. Caffrey.

There was a large chorus, and several attractive dances such as that of the Fireflies, the Polka Dance, the Garland Dance, and the Coronation March.

The performance was very well done and reflected great credit upon the coach as well as upon the ability of the participants.

The hall was well filled and the young people much applauded.

REVIEW CLUB

LEAVES $1,000 TO FRANCE

Guest night for the Review Club of Auburndale was an unusual gala time. The spring program arranged for by Mrs. J. Scott Rider, program chairman, was an inspiration. After the formal reception and presentation to the officers of the club, the guests took their places at attractively arranged tables.

Mrs. Franklin Leland opened the program for the evening with a piano solo. Then Gertrude Erhart Farley sang a group of Spring songs. Miss Margaret Pennick read "Brer Tappan" by Joel Chandler Harris. Another group of songs by Mrs. Farley and then Mrs. Pennick read "The Florist Shop." Mrs. Leland closed the program with two charming solos.

Mrs. Dennett, president of the Review Club, urged all to remain for the social hour.

Daughters of members in their gay spring frocks made a pleasant picture, fleeting in among the tables serving ice cream, cakes and coffee. About 150 enjoyed one of the happiest evenings the Review Club has known.

D. A. R. CHAPTER

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R. held its monthly meeting on Feb. 24 at the home of Mrs. Samuel Woodrow on Forest street, Newton Highlands. The regent was in the chair.

The program of the afternoon was given over to Mrs. R. S. Fogarty. She entertained with Indian songs, and legends, being dressed in full Indian costume. Her selections were enjoyed by all. A social hour followed at which time refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. A. Cody, Mrs. S. E. Emery, Mrs. H. T. Hunt, Miss Emily Fanning, Miss Anna Thompson.

The decorations in red, white and blue, were in honor of Washington's birthday.

MEN'S CLUB OF WEST NEWTON

At the February meeting of the West Newton Men's Club held Tuesday evening at the Parish house of the Second Church, Mr. Frederick Roy Martin, general manager of the Associated Press, gave an excellent talk upon "The Associated Press." The talk was preceded by supper and was attended by about 130 members and their guests.

Mr. Martin said that the Associated Press was often termed dull and conservative, but that this course had to be followed in order to be as sure as possible of accuracy. Accuracy is one of the rules of the organization, and that even the middle initials of a man's name were corrected by operators transmitting messages by wire. The Associated Press has over 60 bureaus in the Western hemisphere, including points in Mexico, Cuba, and South America, with which news is exchanged. News is transmitted by wire, telephone, cable, and sometimes by mail, and the Press has access to the news of various papers in various foreign countries. The Press does not reveal in cases of crime and divorce but only transmits those cases which are outstanding. Mr. Martin, after his talk, answered questions which several members asked him in regard to newspaper reporting.

Using Our Toll Lines

The fire in our Boston toll office seems to have impressed the value of toll service on a lot of people who never before realized its worth to them.

There has been a marked increase in our toll business since the first announcement that service had been completely restored to all points.

We are receiving additional business from small firms and individuals who seldom used the lines, and calls are coming to us from entirely new sources.

With our new toll equipment, rushed into service in record time, we are prepared to give quick service to any point.

Toll service is not expensive, and affords personal conversation without loss of time.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. will meet the Boston Swimming Club this Friday evening at the Boston "Y" pool. The Boston swimmers are admittedly very fast, and have some exceptionally good men in their lineup. Wen Marling is their star, and should be an attraction in himself. However, the Newton team has been putting in strenuous practice, and feels that although Boston is somewhat stronger they are going to be compelled to prove it.

For the local team Millard and Kimball will swim the 100 yard, which should be the feature of the evening. Bullock and Millard will swim the breast stroke, Baird and Perry the 200, Floyd and Arthur Baird will dive, Patterson and Hohmann in the back stroke, and Lincoln and Bang in the 40 yard dash. The meet will start at 8 P. M., Friday evening, and the gallery will be open for spectators.

The Newton five meets Brockton "Y" five in what should be one of the best basketball games of the season this Saturday. The Brockton "Y" team has established a very good reputation this season by beating the best "Y" teams in the State, including Boston and Worcester. The Ellershaw brothers as forwards are attractions in themselves. The whole team works remarkably well together. They easily defeated Newton in an early season game 68 to 27, but Newton feels justified in asking for a return game and feels considerably strengthened since the last meeting. The game will be played on the Newton team's home floor and the players hope to put up a much better exhibition. The line-up for Newton will be: Cunningham, Wellman, Irving, Vuilleumier, Rae, Cummings, and Coulter.

Rev. Henry A. Arnold of Eliot Congregational Church will be the speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, March 2nd.

The Board of Directors will meet on Tuesday evening, March 3rd, at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. G. Fred Harwood's gift of $1,000 to start a fund for two squash racquets courts is arousing a great deal of interest. An opportunity is being given for members to contribute toward a fund of $6,000 which will assure two first class courts.

Messrs. Childs, Emery, Rust, Colburn, Kepner, Dougherty, and Bascom represented the Newton Y. M. C. A. at the 46th annual conference held at the Boston City Club on Thursday, February 26th. Among the speakers were F. W. Ramsey of Cleveland, the new National President. Mr. F. D. Fullerton, President of the Newton Association, was the presiding officer at this convention.

MUNICIPAL GOLF

One of the features of the recent All Newton Conference, as reported in your issue of last week, was the recommendation of a city park where golf could be played. Few of us realize the rapid growth of municipal golf in this country. This has taken place in very recent years and particularly in the Middle West. While Boston had the first course of this kind at Franklin Park and this has been doubled in size from its original nine holes, Chicago has at present eighteen courses in use and many more under way. This is as it should be, the game appeals to the young and old of all classes and should not be kept exclusively for the well to do. We have almost a plenty of rich men's clubs and courses and more are being built yearly but there is scant opportunity for those who wish to get a few hours on a day in the open to find a place where by payment of a small fee they can enjoy this healthful pastime.

"It is entirely feasible and practical to establish a golf course and not only make it self-sustaining, but meet from its revenue the original cost of construction of the course and the necessary building accommodations.

We have in Minneapolis two eighteen hole courses and both of them are built and developed along that line. Our Glenwood links, started eight years ago, is today one of the most popular course in our section of the country, with a building as good and probably better than many of those of private clubs. At first the course was free; then a fee of ten cents was charged for the nine-hole course; and the charges have increased until they are now forty cents for the eighteen holes. At Columbia Park we first had a six-hole course, then a nine, but now there are eighteen holes and the fee has been increased from the original five-cent charge to twenty-five cents.

Temporary shelter buildings are used at present but plans for a commodious building are now being prepared and $20,000 of accumulated fees are in the treasury toward the cost of the contemplated structure.

We are planning for three more courses, which we expect to build during the next five years. I am of the opinion that a park system of any consequence should and can have at least one golf course, and as many more as are needed."

Many of us believe that our city of Newton should take steps in this direction and this is written in the hope that it may promote discussion on the subject.

HOCKEY TEAM BEATEN

At the Boston Arena Sunday afternoon the Newton High School hockey team was defeated 2 to 1 by Melrose high in the semi-final round of the Greater Boston interscholastic hockey league season. Newton had gone through the preliminary rounds undefeated and was a favorite to win over Melrose Monday. The Newton boys put up a fast game, but the superior size and strength of the Melrose team told after the start of the second period.

Both teams scored a goal in the first period. McGinley, of Melrose, skated through the entire Newton team and right into the net, knocking it over, for the first score. Stubbs, of Newton, evened it up by making a long shot at the cage for Newton's only score. This shot was a beauty and was one of the longest shots seen at the arena this winter. Stubbs let it go at mid-ice and it carried into the corner of the net about a foot high.

In the second period the Melrose defence used their weight effectively and this, added to the slow ice, slowed up the fast passing of the Newton team. Shortly after the beginning of the third period a hot scrimmage took place directly in front of the Newton net and Lloyd, of Melrose, shoved the puck in for a score. Captain Howland, the Newton goalie, did not have a chance to stop it as his sight was blocked by numerous feet and skates virtually under his nose. This "break" of the game enabled Melrose to become the opponent of Stoneham high in the final game to be played Saturday afternoon at the Arena.

NEWTON CLUB

About sixty couples attended the Black and White Masquerade Dance at the Newton Club last Friday night.

The prizes for the most original costumes were won by Mrs. Joseph Cryan, who represented a lighthouse, and by Mr. James Bach who represented a cross word puzzle.

The prize for the prettiest costume was won by a guest from Braintree, and that for the most horrible by Mr. E. J. McAdams, Jr., who went as an Indian.

Honorable mention was given to Mrs. Gregory, who represented dice, to Mrs. Mark Emerson, who went in polka dot costume, and to A. O. Wellman and Stanley Arend, who represented baker boys.

The hostesses who were chosen to represent George Washington were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rust.

On Tuesday night there was a Neighborhood Dinner followed by an informal dancing. Mrs. Curtis Delano was chairman of the dinner committee.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The development of the new program of the Mercantile Division of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, through which local committees in the respective villages of the city will initiate and carry out separate activities in addition to the general work of the Division, is now well under way. The order in which these village committees will be organized will be determined by the representation of each village in the mercantile membership. This now numbers more than two hundred merchants of the city, which is slightly more than half of the business memberships of the Chamber. Of the several villages, Newton Corner heads the list with 62 mercantile members and the initial meeting of the Newton Corner village committee will be held next Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in Jewett Hall, in the Newton Free Library Building at 414 Centre street.

In the adoption of this plan the Mercantile Committee of the Chamber is recognizing the demand of a substantial majority of the mercantile members for an operating plan through which the merchants of the respective villages organize special merchandising events, and develop other activities for the benefit of the individual villages as well as participating in the general work of the Mercantile Division for the benefit of the commercial interests of the city as a whole.

The development of the separate village groups, with the incidental meetings and the direction of the various activities which appeal to each group, promises to greatly stimulate the interests of the mercantile interests of the city in the Chamber and its work. It is obvious that all groups cannot initiate and carry out activities simultaneously, therefore the committees will be organized in rotation, and their activities developed more or less along similar lines. No effort will be made to indicate specific activities that each committee should undertake, but rather will the respective groups be encouraged to suggest and develop those things which they deemed most likely to return a direct benefit to the villages which they represent.

Following the coming annual meeting of the Chamber, the general committee of the Mercantile Division will be reorganized for the coming year. This will probably include the chairmen of the respective village committees, these forming a group to serve as an executive committee for the Mercantile Division as a whole. In addition to the meetings and activities of the village committees it is planned to have occasional meetings for the entire mercantile membership, when matters of a broader application will be considered.

The new plan involves the addition to the Chamber staff of a Mercantile Secretary, who will devote his entire time to serving the members of the Mercantile Division, Wilmar W. Redish of Boston, who has had extended experience in organization work and is deemed well qualified to represent the Chamber in the application and development of its mercantile program. A ruling by the Connecticut motor vehicle commission that "any person who drinks and then operates a car must be considered drunken" may sound drastic and will be certain to provoke controversy, but its universal adoption as a standard for the guidance of magistrates would as surely tend to eliminate one class of drivers which is a menace to life and limb on the public highways.

There ought to be no difference of opinion on the proposition that the person permitted to operate a powerful motor on the highways should be required to keep his faculties keen and alert; and there ought also to be little dispute over the fact that the use of alcohol as a beverage is at least a contributing cause of recklessness and incompetent driving.

If it were possible to enforce the Connecticut rule, there would be fewer auto fatalities.

You get a better idea of American business when you learn that more than one billion dollars is spent on one year's advertising. Only implicit faith in the power of advertising to make business grow would warrant such expenditures. The American business man "casts his bread upon the waters," and he knows it will return.

The value of Boy Scout training is brought home to us more pointedly through the rescue of a valuable dog at Crystal Lake last Saturday. It was not the value of the dog but the fact that a dumb animal was in distress that was the motive in the courageous act of a sixteen-year-old lad who has benefited by his Scout training.

The All-Newton conference, which was held recently under the auspices of the Newton Central Council, ought to start something definite on the recreational program of the city. Our citizens need something of this nature to make them visualize the future Newton, and with the vision, let us hope, for progress in the right direction.

We are glad the city fathers have decided to reject all bids for the proposed new High School and have specifications prepared which will come nearer to our financial ability to withstand.

BOSTON AUTOMOBILE SHOW

"More brilliant than ever before, more beautiful, and an effect quite different from anything that has been seen in Boston or anywhere else in the country." That is the way Chester L. Campbell, Manager of Boston Automobile Show since the first one held twenty-three years ago, speaks of the decorative scheme that has been prepared for the show, which will open in Mechanics Building on Saturday (March 7). And when Mr. Campbell uses such terms to express his opinion of the decorations it signifies that the public has awaiting it something quite out of the ordinary, for in the past remarkable effects have been achieved in Mechanics Building in making a setting for the automobiles at the annual exhibition.

Those whose recollection runs back over the shows that the Boston Automobile Dealers Association has given in other years will recall various decorative schemes that have seemed to be the acme of perfection in such things. Notwithstanding the records of other years, however, Mr. Campbell is confident that when the visitors see the inside of the huge exhibition building they will agree with him that it is the best of the series.

Tongue Twisters That Have Become Classics

Some time ago there appeared in the British comic journal Punch, a particularly effective tongue twister, which ran something to this effect:

A lady was walking down a country lane when she met a tinker. "Ah," she said, "I see you are copper-bottoming your pots?" "Oh, no," he replied, "I'm aluminuming 'em, mum." As a tongue twister this is pretty hard to get, though perhaps the American form of the words is just a trifle more difficult to wrap one's tongue around: "I'm aluminuming 'em, mum."

There are, of course, many thousands of these traps for the unwary floating about. Here are a few. The test is, not merely to say them, but to manage to repeat them quickly, say a half a dozen times without getting one's tongue tied up in a knot.

The sea ceaseth and it suffleth us. A growing gleam growing green.

Redbird Got Its Name From Church Dignitary

At first thought it is difficult to see the relationship between the common redbird, or cardinal, and the hinges of the front door. The explanation is simple enough, however, when the words are traced to their source. The redbird was originally called a cardinal because his plumage bore the coloring of the hat and cassock of a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church. The use of the word "cardinal" as denoting a dignitary of the church came about through the poetic fancy of an early pope, who spoke of the cardinals as "the hinges by which all things are moved" in connection with church government. In the Latin language "cardo, cardinis," is the equivalent of the English "hinge." For this reason the dignitary was called a cardinal, as signifying his function as one of the "hinges" of the church. From this early usage "cardinal" came to be applied to anything of prime importance, including the cardinal numbers, the cardinal points of the compass and the cardinal virtues. The use of the word as applying to a color came about from the fact that the color was the striking feature of the dress of a cardinal. This explains the use of the word in naming the redbird.

Lapps Contented With Few Creature Comforts

No one knows when the Lapps came into Sweden, but for centuries a branch of the Mongol tribe, have wandered about the mountains with their reindeer, living a more or less nomadic life and holding their own in population, although not increasing in any number. During the summer months, when the reindeer are on the move, the Lapp contents himself with a birch-pole tent covered with canvas or turf, so that it may readily be moved from place to place. Some of the homes have modern comforts, but as a rule the Lapp contents himself with very little, says the Baltimore Sun.

Little Margaret was spending a holiday with her aunt in Cornwall. Now, auntie was a spinster, and not in the first bloom of youth. In fact, an unknown person had once been heard to refer to her as "old," and we believe the other word used was "cat." Anyhow, she was not young.

Auntie was determined to give her little niece a good time, and she arranged several pleasure trips in order to give Margaret a chance of appreciating the beauties of the Cornish scenery.

"When I take you to St. Ives I will show you the school that I went to when I was a little girl," promised a kind auntie one day when they were out for a walk.

"Oh, auntie, is it still here?" asked the child, innocently. "I expect it's in ruins now, isn't it?" —London Answers.

A Man's Prayer

Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces a pound, and 100 cents a dollar. Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I may have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meat ticket on the square, and in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money. Bind me to the faults of other fellows and reveal to me my own. Guide me so that each night when I look across the table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with little children and sympathetic so as to be considerate of old age. And when comes the day of darkening shades make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple: "Here lies a man." —Herrington Sun.

Moonlight and Mockingbird

Late in the night from some vantage point—the tip-top twigs of the tallest tree, the point the awl of the crossarms of a telephone pole or the peak of the barn—flies a mockingbird, pouring forth his song.

The world lies deep in slumber. High over all rides the moon, its radiance veiled by a delicate mist that lightly drapes the ancient Ozark hills and shrouds the valley. Rest, peace, possess all, a silence deep, broken only by the voice of the wonderful bird. His music rises and falls, filling the hours with melodies rare and sweet, and hawing for accompaniment the soft sound of dewdrops falling from the points of the leaves on the balm of Gilead trees.

Historic Battle

The name Battle of the Giants is given to the battle fought at Marignano (now Malegnano), near Milan, September 13-14, 1515, between the allied French and Venetian forces under Francis I of France, and the Italians and Swiss, commanded by the Duke of Milan. The battle was hotly contested and resulted in a victory for Francis. The total number of slain is said to have exceeded 20,000. Trivulzio, who had been present at 18 pitched battles, called them all child's play as compared with this "battle of giants."

History of Loving Cups

All racing cups are not necessarily loving cups. A loving cup is one having two or more handles, generally constructed of silver. The custom of the loving cup is traced back to the days of wassailing. It was continued after the introduction of Christianity. The monks called the wassail bowl the "poculum caritatis," meaning "loving cup." The ceremony of drinking from one cup and passing it around was observed in the Jewish paschal supper.

Meaning of "Tao"

"I understand you are helping to hold an investigation."

"Not strictly speaking," answered Senator Sorghum. "This investigation has gone past the place where anybody can hold it." —Washington Evening Star.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

The Legislature lost a day this week on account of the holiday. The departure next Tuesday night of a number of Senators and Representatives for Washington to witness the inauguration of President Coolidge will leave the chambers almost bare and it is unlikely that any great amount of business will be transacted between March 3 and 9.

The death last week of Raymond L. Bridgman of Auburndale, dean of the State House newspaper men, has saddened the hearts of those with whom he was closely associated in the press gallery and also among legislators, State officials and other prominent people. The only member of the General Court present at the funeral services was Representative Arthur W. Hollis of this city. Former Representative Bernard Early of Newton attended as did William H. O'Brien, chief of the telephone and telegraph bureau of the Department of Public Utilities. Practically the entire membership of Massachusetts State House Press Association was present. Both branches of the Legislature passed appropriate resolutions on Mr. Bridgman's death.

The bill to prevent the extinction of the mayflower seems certain of passage at the present time. It would be surprising if anything interrupted its course through both branches and without doubt Governor Fuller will affix his signature.

Young Farmer Surely Played in Hard Luck

"A young farmer had been somewhat too much of a general lover before he settled upon one sweetheart in particular, but this time he was truly attached to his Emily. It was about a month before the wedding, on a moonless night; and as he led a white heifer past the public house the door suddenly opened and a man stumbled out into the road, a little confused in his brain by too much beer. Now, this reveler, on returning home, endeavored, like many another husband, to placate his wife by offering her a scrap of gossip; he had just seen that young So-and-so walking out with somebody in white, and it wasn't the right girl, because she was at Doncaster."

"Next morning the wife, of course, told a neighbor, and the neighbor passed it on to the mother of the prospective bride, and, though the fiance was able to explain everything, the girl thought, on the whole, she would prefer to have a young man who could lead anything home at night—plain or colored—without giving rise to talk."

—From "What I Have Gathered," by J. E. Buckrose.

Lord Didn't See Much to Admire in Wordsworth

Wordsworth is held up for the derisive gaze of future generations in the Journal of the fourth Lord Holland, published in London.

His lordship was a languid young man of fashion, who employed part of his leisure in the early days of the Nineteenth century in keeping a rather dull journal into which the unruly public is at length permitted to gaze, says the Living Age.

One paragraph, scrawled on the evening of March 18, 1802, suffices, however, to redeem the Journal, for the more important topic of food being stated three aristocratic sentences on Wordsworth:

"Dined at the B.'s. A very dull affair. We had, however, as per asperses, a rarity at this season. Lady B. informed me that these, as well as the pommes de terre, were sent direct from the estate. Over the wine talked with a young Mr. Wordsworth—a pompous, conceited kind of young man, and a poet. He belongs to the new school of ranting, canting, Germanizing vapors. One has to meet very odd people sometimes."

—Lenten Inspiration

What we call illusions are often, in truth, a wider vision of past and present realities—a willing movement of a man's soul with the larger sweep of the world's forces—a movement toward a more assured end than the chances of a single life. We see human heroism broken into units and say this unit did little—might as well not have been. But in this way we might break up a great army into units; in this way we might break the sunlight into fragments, and think that this and the other might be cheaply parted with it. Let us, rather, raise a monument to the soldiers whose brave hearts only kept the ranks unbroken, and met death—a monument to the faithful who were not famous, and who are precious as the continuity of the sunbeams is precious, though some of them fall unseen and on barrenness.—George Elliot.

—House Paint Once Banned

Linseed oil was first made in New York in 1715. Pigments were all imported. In New England there was much prejudice against the use of paint because it was considered a sign of worldliness and vanity.

—In 1630 a clergyman in Charlestown, Mass., was haled before the council for having the interior of his house painted, and during the ensuing 40 years there was not a painter in all New England. Still, by 1759 the use of paint had become general throughout the country, the white house with green blinds for many years being the common form of exterior painting in all parts of the United States. This manner of painting frame houses is today enjoying popularity. In fact, in some quarters this color scheme is criticized as lacking individuality.

—Scored on the Orator

The atmosphere was getting slightly heated in the village hall, where the candidate for office was addressing a meeting of those who he hoped would vote for him at the next election.

One man in the crowd was determined not to give the aspirant a moment's peace, and he didn't. At last the speaker lost his last remnant of patience and

WOMEN'S CLUBS

EMMA D. COOLIDGE, Editor

Recent Events

Club women will be interested to know of the Legislative Hearings before Mercantile Affairs Committee, on February 12th, on the two bills, Senate 238 and 239, presented by the Executive Board of the Newton Community Club. In spite of the rainy, humid morning, many club women, not only from Newton but from the State Federation, went to the hearings, and presented some excellent arguments. There was no opposition to the bill for a commission to study the situation as to Christmas trees, laurel and holly; the only objections being voiced by members of the Legislative Committee, who could only see that if tops of trees were stolen, or holly despoiled from private property, that it became the duty of the State Constabulary to stop such thievery and trespass. It was made evident that protection from this source was an impossibility, with all the forest acreage to cover. Some members of the committee—who quite evidently had not read them, and probably have not taken the trouble to read since, then, S. 238—thought that the club was trying to do away with the custom of Christmas trees!

Senator Abbott B. Rice presented the two petitions, opened the hearing, and stated that he wished to be recorded as in favor of both measures, giving forceful arguments in their behalf.

protect the managers, the patrons, and the children. We understand that the disappointment is as keen for the theatre managers as for our club members, who hoped that some legal redress was to be given them for an intimidation that is unbelievable exists in Massachusetts in the year 1925.

The Newton Community Club has at least tried to remedy some of the conditions that all club women have been bewailing for years without action, and the day will come when these efforts will be rewarded—when the public becomes aware of conditions and insists upon remedy—and on that day this club will receive the reward of being known as the pioneer in two worthy causes!

Coming Events

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club has secured for March 2nd, Dr. Charles J. O'Malley, the well-known newspaperman, who will deliver his lecture on "The Passion Play at Oberammergau."

In 1922, he and his family visited Oberammergau where he made many beautiful pictures in colors of the Players and the picturesque village, and he had the pleasure of showing the Players these pictures when he gave them a reception at his home on their recent visit to this country.

Mr. O'Malley is a neighbor of Miss Nellie M. Osborne, who is chairman of the March 2nd meeting, which will be in Emerson Hall at 8:15 P. M.

Prof. Brewer G. Whitmore will give the last of his Current Events lectures before the Newton Community Club on March 5th, in the Hunnewell Club house, at 2:30 P. M. Club members will be sorry to give up these "tabloid" forms of world news.

Civics and Social Service Committees, Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop and Mrs. Charles Wood Bond, Chairmen, are in charge of the March 5th meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Dr. Edward A. Steiner will speak on "The Mission and Destiny of America."

Dr. Steiner, Professor of Applied Christianity at Grinnell College, Iowa, began his career in America pressing coats on New York's East Side. He later mined coal in Pennsylvania, and worked in the steel mills. The young immigrant rose slowly from college to various post-graduate courses, was ordained a Congregational minister, held pastorates, and is to-day best known as the author of at least three interest-compelling books: "Against the Current," "From Alien to Citizen," and "On the Trail of the Immigrant."

There are many who can trace to much earlier days in America to more fortunate circumstances that might well be proud of having achieved what this persevering, talented young immigrant has accomplished in this land. What he has to say should be well worth listening to!

At the club meeting on next Tuesday, Willard L. Sperry, Dean of the Divinity School of Harvard University, will be the speaker and his subject is "Tragedy and Reconciliation in Modern Literature." Music and tea will follow the lecture.

Mrs. William F. Coan will lead a cross country walk on Wednesday, March 4th, starting from the Club Bulletin Board in the square and stopping for a short rest and cup of tea at the Peabody Tea House at Oak Hill.

The date of the last "Museum Talk" is March 5th and will be given by Mr. John Hippkiss of the Museum of Fine Arts on "Old Silver and Old Glass."

The last illustrated lecture of the season offered by the Conservation Committee is scheduled for March 6th and is open to all showing membership tickets. Mrs. S. V. R. Crosby will tell many interesting facts about the "Preservation of our Native New England Plants."

The Drama Club has its final reading on March 10th. Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe has charge and will use Bernard Shaw's famous play "Saint Joan."

Wednesday, March 4th, marks the Lenten Musicals of the Community Service Club of West Newton, and a treat is in store not only for club members, but for others who desire to give themselves the possibly long-pleasure of hearing the Buitekam Trio. The fame of this trio is rapidly growing and with cause, for they present an excellent program with skill and masterly musicianship. Mr. Huynan Buitekam, at the piano, proves his ability either as a player or as sympathetic and understanding accompanist. Mrs. Buitekam, cellist, brings out the beauty of this instrument to the joy of all lovers of cellos depth and sweetness. Miss Edith Rowbound, violinist, rounds out the trio. There will also be a soloist, Miss Dorothy Fairbanks, soprano. The Musicals is to be in the Parish House of the Second Church at 2:30 P. M.

That this bill has been referred to the next session is, of course, disappointing, and how this came to pass, in view of the splendid backing of the measure, and of no opposition, is a mystery. But the Newton Community Club has at least expressed itself upon the situation, and publicity may one day bring the desired result. Meanwhile, there is the consolation—however unavailing—that the phrasing of the bill has been highly complimented by men who have reason to know whereof they speak.

The second measure—to stop the coercion of theatre managers who are now forced to sign contracts to take all the output of a given producer, whatever its content and whatever the wishes of their patrons—was also referred to the next session. The presentation of the matter was un- hurried, so that a realization of the unfortunate condition of affairs was not driven home as we would have liked to drive it. The only opposition came from the admitted attorney of the moving-picture producers. And yet everything he said was an argument for the proponents!

He stated that it was true that such contracts existed, by which a manager had to agree to take all output (regardless of merit, or protest). He admitted, too, that unless a manager submitted to such coercion he would have to close his theatre for lack of films to show. He contested, however, that Massachusetts could pass this measure forbidding such coercion, as the matter was interstate, and therefore, outside of our jurisdiction. His argument apparently prevailed.

Whether or not any effort was made to consult with the one recognized authority, so far as Legislature is concerned, on the constitutionality of the bill, is not known, but unless the Attorney-General was consulted on this point, it would appear that the avowed attorney for the opposition does not have a hard time to protect his clients.

As to its being unconstitutional to place upon our books some law by which theatre managers may be protected from buying and showing immoral or "diseased" pictures shipped from Hollywood, it raises the question as to how it is possible for Massachusetts to have a law to protect the retail meat dealers in selling diseased meat, because it is shipped from Chicago—an Interstate affair!

The question has been asked why some effort was not made to get the bills substituted in the House for the adverse reports. The effort was made, but it was replied that no committee report had so been set aside this session, and it was therefore of no use to try to set these aside.

Another year may see enough public opinion aroused on this question to protect the managers, the patrons, and the children. We understand that the disappointment is as keen for the theatre managers as for our club members, who hoped that some legal redress was to be given them for an intimidation that is unbelievable exists in Massachusetts in the year 1925.

The class in millinery will meet with Mrs. Royal Lapham, 80 Central Avenue, on March 4th, at 2:30. Application for membership should be made to Mrs. George E. Eames, chairman of the economics committee.

Books for the Merchant Marine Library may be left with Mrs. Reginald Bankart, 365 Cabot street.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet on March 2nd at the home of Mr. G. A. Salmon, 999 Walnut street. Mrs. A. H. Armstrong will discuss "Machine-Made Beauty," and Mrs. S. W. Jones "The Minor Arts."

The Newton Community Club has at least tried to remedy some of the conditions that all club women have been bewailing for years without action, and the day will come when these efforts will be rewarded—when the public becomes aware of conditions and insists upon remedy—and on that day this club will receive the reward of being known as the pioneer in two worthy causes!

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by

Frequent appearance these days of that venerable word "harbinger" shows that with the approach of Spring many minds turn to thoughts of the poet. "Harbinger" we have seldom seen used except as "harbinger of Spring" and applied to birds, garden flowers, millinery, clothing, and men's hats, etc. It has seemed to us that "harbinger" has not the soft, most melodious sound, but rather that it is harsh. We doubt if it appeals to writers of verse, for who of ordinary talents and imagination can think of or even invent a word that rhymes with it. But "harbinger" has been used every year for centuries and does not seem in any danger of falling among the obsolete. We are therefore among those who are content to let it stand. As we started out to say we never thought much of it as far as euphony was concerned. Naturally we wondered from whence it came. Faint recollection of having been told at some period of our school days of its origin was no help to us. Consequently we decided to look it up. Of course we never thought, when that decision entered our mind, that dictionaries are seldom available nowadays. That is, they may be available but one must wait until the cross-word puzzle finds have laid them aside temporarily. By the exercise of considerable patience we managed to get hold of a large copy of "Webster's New International." There we found that a "harbinger" is one "who is sent before to provide lodgings, especially the officer of the English royal household who preceded the court when traveling to prepare lodgings." If the Prince of Wales had such an official on his recent visit to this country we do not recall that such was the name given him. Had there been a "harbinger" he surely would have got into the news as did about everything else concerning the Prince. Such a duty fell to tethothohimeq'e Suchaduetyllofe

Such a duty fell to the lot of some one, of course, but apparently under another title. However, that is not what we are about to disclose. We found, thanks to Mr. Webster, that there is such a thing as "harbinger-of-spring." It is described as "a small tuberous, apiacous, early-blooming herb of the eastern United States." Furthermore, that "it has ternate leaves and compound umbels of white flowers." These descriptive phrases we have copied with care and are confident the compositor will see that they are spread before the readers of this column with particular attention to the accuracy of spelling. We would go further into the subject of this "tuberous, apiacous, early-blooming herb" and its "ternate leaves and compound umbels" but have thoughtlessly allowed our dictionary to pass from our hands into those of a cross-word puzzle and are unable to enlighten our readers further.

"Greater attention should be paid to National celebrations" says the report of the Recreation Survey Committee of the Newton Central Council. We have waited ever so long for somebody in Newton to say that. It is a bit of advice that we have more than often felt that we would like to place before our fellow citizens. It has seemed to us that other Massachusetts cities and towns have displayed more desire than has Newton in the production of pageants, the holding of parades and conducting affairs in which all the citizens have an equal share. We firmly believe in such things. In fact we know of nothing better to promote the community spirit. Newton is charged with being ultra-conservative. Whatever the definition of that phrase it undoubtedly means that residents of this city do not go in for public demonstrations on National holidays. Assuming that there should be more observances of this character we wonder why Newton has been so reluctant to indulge itself. It has been our duty from time to time to witness celebrations in Boston and in other places. Always the thought has come to us that Newton should do its share. We say this because we firmly believe that there could be held public gatherings that would interest everybody and promote patriotism, civic pride and other ideals. Newton has never lacked patriotism, to be sure. Its citizens are generous and have given money where other cities have contributed less coin and more oratory. We think that Newton, which enjoys making substantial contributions to worthy causes, would find pleasure as well in a patriotic procession, pageants and the like. Of course many prefer to "go away for the holiday." That is their right. Others stay at home and we have often heard them say, "There's never anything to do in Newton on a holiday." We say there should be. It may be that because few observances have been held in Newton that we remember a celebration back in 1892 in honor of the anniversary of the discovery of America. Our boyish fancy was particularly hit with the parade that was held. One thing we shall always remember was the magnificent decorations of flowers on Steam Fire Engine 1. It may have been that we never expected to see a piece of fire apparatus banked with flowers. Whatever it may have been we received a thrill, not only from this particular spectacle, but from the fact that the people of Newton, the militia, the different city departments and various civic bodies came out on that glorious day. It you know how proud a boy can be because he lives in Newton then you know the feeling we had on that day. We are sure that such a feeling could be aroused today in the hearts, not only of all Newton boys but of all Newton people, if on some holiday there was held a demonstration in which all classes had a part.

Another thing that impressed us greatly upon reading the Recreation Survey Committee's report was its vision. We have no doubt that the committee saw not only the needs set forth in their report but also the picture of horror on the faces of certain taxpayers at the bare suggestion of spending money for such things. Every village has a group of citizens who would毫不犹豫地 declare all these ideas to be "mere fads" and "another way of wasting the public money." The committee discreetly explains that it does not urge these suggestions be adopted at once but seeks to "stimulate thought about these programs, etc." Now to our mind the committee has done a good job and its ideas are sound. Equally reasonable is the question, "How and where are you going to get the money to pay for it?" We believe the answer to that is "By the display of public interest." It need not be that the city treasury has got to be tapped for all these things. We do not believe that it should be. If, however, the city will contribute a share that would help, in our opinion. The first thing, as we view the problem, is to get it into the minds of Newton people that such-and-such recreation facilities are needed. Once that thought is planted it will grow. To sit back and wait for the city to take the initiative is not only the hopeless attitude of mind but it reveals an absence of "pey" on the part of the people. Nothing interests them and women, or boys and girls more than a sense of proprietorship. If a group of youngsters pile up enough pennies to buy something for a local playground they will have a greater appreciation of the playground because they can say "I helped pay for the swimming tank." Let anybody become sufficiently enthusiastic in his local pride to want to see his home city have the best there is and convince him that his energy and contribution will help towards its attainment and you have your project well started toward success.

It is a source of regret to us that the campaign to obtain gifts of books for men aboard vessels has not been more intensive. We do not say this in a spirit of criticism, for we are certain that those in charge of the matter have done their very best. Neither are we sure that there hasn't been a general response, although there has come to us an intimation that in some quarters at least disappointment has been expressed. Our own meagre offering was received by an official who said that it was the largest of the week. There were not more than 15 or 20 books in the bundle which we deposited so that if we are to judge by this a more general appreciation of the situation is really demanded. A friend of ours who spends his vacations "before the mast" and who, although engaged in the newspaper business, likes to have a long voyage each Summer, has told us concerning what he has seen. He by the way, has won his papers as an "ordinary seaman," which we submit is pretty good for a newspaper reporter. "I have seen a sailor reading the deepest kind of a book and enjoying every word of it," says our friend. "My observation tells me that a fireman is eager to get a book on engineering in order that he may acquire knowledge by which he may advance himself. In fact, books on scientific subjects are greatly in demand. You have no idea how eager these men are for books. While I get a thrill just by being on board for a few weeks in the Summer the other men do it for a livelihood and their case is different. They like to read good stuff and not trash. I do not mean that all the reading should be ponderous, but at least it can be clean and wholesome. Don't get an idea that the men on vessels haven't the brains to grasp the best of literature. They have, and they can hand many of us land-lubbers cards and spades on the choice of a good library."

Our schedule of travel between Boston and Boston will have to be readjusted in order that we may obtain a ride in one of the four "new all-steel coaches" placed in service on the Boston & Albany. The hours during which they are operated are not those we set apart for our daily excursions to and from the gay metropolis. But there are to be more evening—fifty in all—and we shall have our day. Meanwhile we are looking forward to the opportunity, content now with the thrill that comes of the knowledge the new coaches "will cost somewhat over a million dollars."

Already we have heard a lament from some quarters that the Board of Aldermen have decided on brief sessions. We think we are sound in our prediction that the plan to "make 'em short" is going to stick and that those of the spectators who are keen for long-winded speeches are to be disappointed.

No more holidays until April, unless you make your own.

DEATH OF EBENEZER SHUTE

Following a fortnight's illness, Mr. Ebenezer Shute, for forty years connected with the treasurer's department of the Massachusetts Society for the Protection of Animals, and the American Humane Education Society, died last Friday at his home, 1091 Chestnut Street Newton Centre.

Mr. Shute was born August 20, 1838, in Boston. Following his graduation from the English High School he took position in a book store and finally started a store of his own in Cornhill. Later he became one of the officers of the Boston Sunday School Union.

During the Civil War Mr. Shute went South with the Christian Commission. Upon his return he identified himself with the Boston North End Mission and later entered the service of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals with which he had since been associated. Twenty-five years ago he was elected treasurer of the organization.

For a quarter of a century Mr. Shute was superintendent of the Sunday School of the Clarendon Street Baptist Church, Boston, and for the last year or more was a member of the Newton Centre Baptist Church.

In 1878 he married Nannie J. Morgan of Boston. She died several years ago. His surviving children are a daughter, Miss Dorothea Shute, a school teacher, and a son, Eben M. Shute, of Springfield.

Services were held at his late residence in Newton Centre on Sunday, Rev. Charles N. Arkuckle, pastor of the First Baptist Church Newton Centre, officiating, assisted by Dr. Francis H. Rowley. The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

ANOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Burnham of 68 Brookside Avenue, Newtonville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy I. Burnham to Rodney C. Eaton. Miss Burnham is a graduate of Lasell Seminary. Mr. Eaton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Eaton of Nyack, N. Y., and is a graduate of Cornell University. The wedding will be early in the fall. A bridge party Saturday at the home of Miss Burnham was made an occasion for formally announcing to the guests the news of the engagement.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending February 14:—Patients in hospital 115, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 56, patients paying less than cost of care 33, free patients (including babies) 26, patients treated by out patient department 105, accident cases 4, patients at eye clinic 9, babies born 8, social service calls at hospital 8, at homes 11, patients transferred by social service car 17.

Mr. Arthur G. Rotch, for a long time director of the New England Division of the Red Cross has been retained by the Newton Hospital to act as a special representative of the executive committee and to co-operate with Miss Allen, the superintendent. He will give special attention to studying the problems and needs of the hospital and will act for the board in the purchase of equipment, letting contracts and arranging for building operations and repairs. He will relieve Miss Allen of business detail and so give her more time and freedom for her other increasing duties and responsibilities which the growth of the hospital impose upon her. The hospital is able to engage the services of Mr. Rotch at this time because of the closing up of the work of the New England Division of the Red Cross and by retaining him it puts itself in line with the accepted method of hospital administration as it is being developed in this country.

General Herbert Lord, the director of the government budget, who spoke at the dinner of the Maine Society of Massachusetts in Boston last week, was for several weeks during the year of 1906 a patient at the Newton Hospital. At that time, by the way, he was Major Lord. Miss Allen, the superintendent of the hospital, who is a member of the Maine Society, was also present at the dinner.

The Know More Kokki Klub was busy at its regular weekly meeting at the hospital last Monday.

Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Norton of Wellesley Hills and Mrs. Elder of West Newton were the volunteers who gave of their time in the making of surgical dressings last week. There is work enough that ought to be done to keep a dozen or more other volunteers busy if only they would volunteer.

Several of the students of the training school attended the concert given by the First Church orchestra in Newton Centre last week.

Valentine's Day was quite a day at the hospital. The four to eight year old children of the primary department of the Centenary Methodist church of Auburndale under the direction of Bertha V. Gale, the superintendent, made and presented to the children in the hospital valentines bearing the message "For our little neighbors who may be ill in the hospital on this day of love."

The messenger who brought the valentines to the hospital was Ruth L. Jones of Newland road. Another lot of valentines for the children was sent by the children of the kindergarten class of the Unitarian church in West Newton, their valentines being brought to the hospital by Miss Bassett, one of their teachers.

The nurses at the hospital celebrated the day with a dance in the Nurses' Home. The living room and the recreation room were decorated in red and white and the colors were also used in the refreshments which were served. The dances included a Cinderella dance, several Paul Jones's and some favor dances.

Dr. Pringle of Sydney, Nova Scotia, was a visitor at the hospital on Wednesday. Dr. Pringle is the original of "Colonel Pringle" in "Private Peat," a book that had considerable circulation during war times.

Through one of the trustees the patients at the hospital have been provided with proofs on single sheets of the cross word puzzles that appear in the Boston Transcript.

One of the accident victims brought to the hospital recently was a young girl of about nine who had been run down by an automobile while on her way on her bicycle to do an errand for her family all of the members of which were confined to their home by bad colds. Fortunately the accident was not a very serious one, no bones being broken though the skin of both knees was quite badly lacerated.

In the two days that she had to stay at the hospital the young girl won the hearts of all the hospital attendants by her cheerfulness and bravery, her only worry being solicitude as to who would look after her mother and the rest of the family during the time she had to be in the hospital.

The fifteenth closed the month of service as visitors from the trustees of Mrs. Endicott Saltonstall and Mrs. Allston Burn and during the month they set a record for faithfulness of service that other trustees will find hard to equal.

Following the growing custom the baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth was born at a hospital, the Chicago Lying-in Hospital. At this hospital the latest grandchild of President Roosevelt was registered by taking impressions of her feet upon a recording card which also carries the date of her birth and her weight. At the Newton Hospital no impressions of the feet are taken but in order to prevent any possible mix-up of babies each baby has placed about its wrist a distinguishing letter.

Monday evening all the nurses at the hospital having birthdays in February were invited to sit at the "Birthday Table" which was gay with red carnations and candles and where a special birthday supper was served with a real birthday cake.

THE REV. L. W. FEARN AT ST. MARY'S

St. Mary's Church at Newton Lower Falls is announcing a week of Lenten Services Sunday, March 1st, through Friday, March 6th, to be conducted by the Reverend Leslie Watson Fearn of England, Warden of the Church of the Union.

Mr. Fearn received his degree at Cambridge University, travelled extensively and engaged in medical and scientific studies. He subsequently took Holy Orders under the Bishop of Ripon, the late Reverend Boyd Carpenter and travelled as a Missionary throughout that Diocese. He later became assistant to that extraordinarily eloquent Mystic, Archdeacon Basil Wilberforce (the grandson of the Emancipator) of Westminster Abbey, and of St. John's in Westminster, whose numerous writings (such as "There is No Death" and "The New Theology") are but now becoming known in this country.

This is now the fourth visit of Mr. Fearn to this country. At this visit St. Paul's Chapel of the Parish of Old Trinity, New York City, has been offered him as his Official Church Headquarters.

The emphasis of Mr. Fearn's teaching is upon the One-ness of the Spiritual World on both sides of the grave, and the Spiritual Power possible to those who give themselves up to the influence of the Holy Spirit.

Sunday, March 1, the services will be at 10:45 A. M. Sermon by Mr. Fearn. Subject: "The Secret of the Wilderness" and at 11:00 A. M. a Eucharistic Service conducted by Fearn.

Gauls Conceded to Be First Makers of Soap

Made from goat's tallow and beech-wood ashes, the earliest forms of soap were used by the ancient inhabitants of Germany to give a reddish color to the hair, according to the records of the historian, Pliny the elder. Although mixed into hard and liquid material, it was not known as a cleansing substance, but was often employed in the treatment of skin troubles.

The Gauls, it is said, introduced it into other parts of the world.

Today the yearly production in the United States is estimated to be two and one-half billion pounds. Not until about the Second century of the Christian era was the product used as a cleansing article, it is claimed, and an ancient factory for manufacturing the material unearthed in the ruins of Pompeii still contained a quantity of it in good state of preservation.

Northern Spain and Marseilles later became the chief centers of the industry and produced large amounts of the Castile variety from olive oil and lye. Earlier accounts of the existence of soap among Asiatic peoples are believed to refer to some kinds of mixtures which were devoted to purposes entirely apart from those of dyes or cleaning substances.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Some Preliminaries to His Good Night's Rest

Courtland Bleecker, at a dinner on Fifth avenue, was talking about the high prices in Europe since the war. "Yes, they are high sometimes, but most of it is travelers' tales. That reminds me that I heard a good one recently. It was a tale about Ceylon. An American had just arrived at a Colombo hotel and the chambermaid said to him, as she put his bedroom in order: 'Have you asked at the office for your frog, sir?' 'My frog?' gasped the American, 'what do you mean?' 'The frog to kill your cockroaches, sir. Make them give you a young, lean, muscular frog, a good jumper; one that will clean out the cockroaches thoroughly. Then, afterward, when the cockroaches are all gone, you must go down to the office again and get your snake.' 'Snake? Holy Moses! Why a snake?' 'A snake to eat the frog, sir!' replied the maid. 'And then, as soon as the frog is eaten, you must get out of bed and kill the snake with a club; after that you'll be sure of a good night's rest!'

Example of the Bee

It is very important to remember, says John Burroughs, the great naturalist, that the bee does not get honey from the flowers; it makes honey from what it gets from the flowers. What it gets from the flowers is nothing but sweetened water. The bee gets its sweet water, retires, thinks it over and by a private process makes its honey. So many nature writers fail to profit by the example of the bee. They go into the woods and come out again and write about their experience—but they don't give us honey. They don't retire and subject what they find in the woods to a private process. They give us just a little sweet water, pretty thoroughly diluted. I have tried for many years not to give the world just a bare record, but to flavor it with my own personality.

Duck's Use of Wings

Do ducks use their wings while swimming under water? The question is discussed frequently among sportsmen and nature students, and opinions sometimes differ. Testimony of reliable authorities, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, supports the belief that various species of ducks and grebes, loons and other diving birds do not use their wings when swimming beneath the surface for food or in trying to escape capture. A ruddy duck was observed on Lake Michigan not long ago, feeding in fifteen or twenty feet of clear water. As it got well started on its downward plunge, the wings, about two-thirds extended, were used in quick, short strokes, at the rate of about one a second, to assist in propelling it and in rising to the top, as well.

Bowls Were Not Alike

"A man selling pottery came to Salem and rapped at a certain lady's door," says the Boston Globe. "He was asked in. Just as he got inside the door he dropped one of the bowls, supposedly by mistake, and it did not break. When in the kitchen he dropped another, and then remarked to the lady that his bowls were guaranteed not to break. She bought some, to be paid for when delivered. When they came she put them away to wait until some of her friends would appear and she would drop one for a surprise. A friend finally arrived. The lady took a pot from the shelf and dropped it accidentally on purpose. It shattered into a thousand pieces—quite unlike the rubber samples."

Basis of Civilization

Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Man may be civilized in some degree without great progress in manufactures and with little commerce with his distant neighbors. But without the cultivation of the earth he is, in all countries, a savage. Until he gives up the chase, and fixes himself in some place, and seeks a living from the earth, he is a roaming barbarian. When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of civilization.—Daniel Webster.

THE SIR GALAHAD PLAYS

"The Florist Shop" was the title of "The Florist Shop" was the title of an excellent little play, produced last Friday night at Trinity Church, by the boys of the Sir Galahad Club, assisted by some of the older girls. Maude, the clerk in the Florist Shop, was remarkably well done by Helen Washburn; James Barr, as Henry, the errand boy, did very well what the part called for; Arthur Stanfield was splendid as Slovsky, the proprietor; Viola Morgan as Miss Wells, the Engaged Spinster, and John Scott, as Mr. Jackson, her fiance, were very entertaining in their amusing scene. The more serious they were the more fun they made.

In the Pantomime, "Mellerdramer," the cast was: Manuel del Popolo, Dorothy Ward, Zingerella, the maid, Rhoda Bolinger; Patrick O'Brien, Katharine Lynch; Maggie, his lover, Elizabeth Pratt; The Sun, Gordon Hopkins; The Hours; Frank McElroy; The Reader, Frank Grebe.

In "Hiram—A Dialogue," the characters were taken as follows: Hiram, Miriam Temperley; Mirandy, Miss Bishop; Station Agent, Philip Darling; Scene, a Country Railway Station.

Mary Washington Rose

The Mary Washington rose is perhaps the most ambitious attempt at floriculture made by George Washington. He made it at Mt. Vernon in the last years of his life when he laid aside the cares of state.
